

Democrats Preparing To Nominate Ticket In St. Louis This Week

St. Louis, Mo., June 12.—Preliminary to the Democratic National convention were completed today with the meeting of the national committee, which formally selected former Governor Glynn, of New York, as temporary chairman to deliver the keynote speech; chose temporary officers and disposed of contests.

The retirement of Chairman William F. McCombs brought about a remarkable demonstration in the committee which gave cheers and a vote of thanks to him. As the committee members cheered the delegates in the hotel lobby joined in the demonstration.

Replying to the tribute of the committee, Chairman McCombs said:

"I cannot say how deeply touched I am by your motion and I leave you with great regret and will always cherish the memory of the pleasant associations I have with you."

Chairman Edward Goltz, of the arrangements committee, announced that the convention would be completed tonight.

Booming Baker

For Vice President

A boom for Secretary of War Newton D. Baker, of Ohio, for vice president was sprung here today by Henry Morgenthau, former Ambassador to Turkey, who resigned to go into the Democratic campaign and who probably will handle the national committee finances. Mr. Morgenthau said he expects to take the Baker boom before the convention.

Other "Favorite son" booms for the vice presidential nomination also are being nursed. However, Vice President Marshall is everywhere the leading figure in discussion of the second place position. Predictions were made today by leaders that all of the "favorite son" candidates will withdraw their names at the proper time to permit the re-nomination of Vice President Marshall by acclamation.

Other Native Sons Boomed

Other possible candidates for whom booms have been started or who are being talked of for the second place position, include: Governor John H. Morehead, of Nebraska, who led the fight against William Jennings Bryan in the state primaries for selection of delegates; Roger Sullivan, of Illinois; Governor Major, of Missouri; Senator Owen, of Oklahoma; Governor Stewart, of Montana.

Because the Republicans have chosen their vice president nominee, Charles W. Fairbanks, of Indiana, delegates from several states, who came here favorable to displacing Vice President Marshall, of Indiana, and substituting Governor Major as President Wilson's running mate, today swung to Mr. Marshall. Although they said Governor Major's selection as the vice presidential nominee might help the Democrats to carry Missouri in November, it was pointed out that retention of Vice President Marshall on the ticket would counteract the Republican selection of Mr. Fairbanks.

AUTHORITIES ARE ANXIOUS OVER UNREST IN NORTHERN MEXICO

Washington, D. C., June 12.—Increasing excitement and anti-American feeling throughout Northern Mexico is described in today's dispatches to the state department. In many cases, it was said at the department the Carranza authorities appear to be indifferent to what is going on.

Officials made no attempt to conceal their anxiety over the situation which apparently is crystallizing in the Northern Mexican states. Many dispatches bearing on the subject have been received during the last 48 hours. All were read immediately upon receipt by Secretary Lansing and the more important were sent to the White House. Equally disquieting reports are reaching the department of justice from its agents along the border and in the interior of Mexico. They were turned over to the state department.

HOLDS SPRAGUE LAW REPEALED

Washington, June 12.—The supreme court today affirmed the action of the Ohio supreme court in holding that the Sprague Congressional Redistricting law enacted by the 1915 legislature had been repealed by an adverse referendum vote of the people.

Chief Justice White for the court held that the point that a republican form of government was denied by allowing referendum vote on a law passed by a legislature was one for congress to consider and not the courts. He further held that congress had expressly amended the federal "apportionment" act so that the referendum might be applied by the states to apportionment laws.

BULL MOOSE LEADER SAYS HE IS THROUGH WITH POLITICAL GAME

Chicago, June 12.—Three minutes before the Progressive convention adjourned Saturday until another time Chairman Raymond Robins read to the delegates a brief message from Oyster Bay, in which Mr. Roosevelt declined to accept the nomination at that time. Few of the thousands in the vast auditorium, some of whom had seen the colonel named in an even wilder burst of enthusiasm four years ago realized when Robins rapped his gavel at 4:58 p. m. Saturday and declared the convention adjourned sine die that in a few weeks they might be a party without the one leader to whom they had come to Chicago to give the pledge of loyalty and faith.

The significance of Mr. Roosevelt's message with its announcement that if the Progressive national committee found the subsequent statements of Charles Evans Hughes, the Republican standard bearer, to its liking, his non-acceptance of the Progressive nomination should stand as his last word, was lost in that tired throng, worn by its own enthusiasm.

None of the feeling that some of them later betrayed when they had had opportunity to digest the colonel's statement had time to flare out when the gavel fell. They trooped out into Chicago's streets for home while the band played faintly and the flags that had flattered so proudly through all the stormy sessions were folded and the banners put away.

ROOSEVELT'S ANSWER

Chicago, June 12.—Colonel Roosevelt's answer to the Progressive convention follows:

"To the Progressive convention: I am very grateful for the honor you confer upon me by nominating me as president. I cannot accept at this time. I do not know the attitude of the candidate of the Republican party toward the vital questions of the day.

"Therefore, if you desire an immediate decision, I must decline the nomination. But if you prefer it, I suggest that my conditional refusal to run be placed in the hands of the Progressive national committee.

"If Mr. Hughes' statements, when he makes them, shall satisfy the committee that it is for the interest of the country that he be elected, they can act accordingly and treat my refusal as definitely accepted.

"If they are not satisfied, they can so notify the Progressive party, and at the same time they can confer with me and then determine on whatever action we may severally deem to be appropriate to meet the needs of the country.

"THEODORE ROOSEVELT."

This Egg Is A Whole Breakfast

Kenton, O., June 12.—An egg, four times the regular size, which when broken open, was found to contain, besides the two yolks, a separate egg encased in a shell of its own, is being exhibited by Lafe Woodard, a local farmer.

RESTA WINS EASILY IN AUTO RACE

Chicago, June 12.—Resta easy! That is no hyphenated. English but an accurate description of the finish of the second international automobile derby, at Speedway Park Sunday, after a sustained flight of speed over the three-hundred-mile route of a little better than 98 miles an hour. The winner's time was 3 hours, 2 minutes, 31.65 seconds.

The order of the finish for the 10 placed cars of the 12 remaining in the race was:

Resta, Peugeot; Del Palma, Mercedes; Christaens, Sunbeam; O'Donnell, Duesenberg; Galvin, Sunbeam; Vail, Hudson; D'Alene, Duesenberg; Gable, Burman Special; McCarthy, Super-six Special; and Lewis, Crawford Special.

A FAKE CALL LOSES DOCTOR HIS MONEY

Cincinnati, O., June 12.—The police are searching today for two men who deceived Dr. Louis A. Heizer, of this city, to a room on Walnut street late last night on the pretext of having a friend in need of medical assistance and there holding him up and robbing him. A dummy had been arranged on the bed and when the physician leaned over to examine the alleged patient he was seized from behind his watch and purse containing a small amount was taken from him and the men fled.

GERMAN INFANTRY ATTACKS FAILED

Paris, June 12.—German infantry attacked the French positions west of Fort Vaux on the Verdun front last night. The assault failed entirely, the official report of today says.

RUSSIANS HAMMERING AT THE GATES OF BUKOWINA CAPITAL

Petrograd, June 12.—(Via London)—Russian troops yesterday approached the outskirts of Czernowitz, the capital of Bukowina, the war office announced today.

Berlin, June 12.—(Via London)—Russian troops attempted to advance northeast of Buczac, Galicia, and were repulsed, the war office announced today. More than thirteen hundred Russians were captured.

GERMAN ATTACK SWINGS TO EAST

London, June 12.—The German attack on Verdun has again swung to the east of the Meuse following the assaults of Saturday night on the French positions near Hill 304 west of the river. Last night German infantry charged French positions west of Fort Vaux, but, the French war office reports, was unable to gain ground.

At the same time the French positions near Fort Souville and Tavanne, south of Fort Vaux, were bombarded heavily. Paris looks for a severe struggle for possession of Fort Souville, to which the bombardment may be preliminary. Should the Germans capture the fort they would open a breach in the French defenses which might compel the French to abandon this entire line and fall back on the inner defenses on the right bank of the river.

West of the Meuse the only development of the night was a heavy artillery consideration in the vicinity of Chantonnay.

The spectacular Russian advance in Galicia and Volhynia apparently has not been checked, although few details of this campaign are permitted to come to light. Vienna concedes the withdrawal of Austrian troops in Northeastern Bukowina, where the advance of the Russians has brought them within 13 miles of the capital, Czernowitz.

The sinking of two more neutral merchantmen is reported. The Swedish steamship Emmy has been destroyed by a mine off Falsterbo, with the loss of five men. The Norwegian steamship Bur also has been sunk, whether by a mine or torpedo is unknown. Fifteen men from the Bur have been landed at Yumiden, Holland.

SWEDISH STEAMER IS WRECKED

London, June 12.—A Renter dispatch from Malmouth said the Swedish steamer Emmy, 416 tons, has been destroyed by a mine off Falsterbo. The dispatch says that one of the crew was killed by the explosion and four others were drowned.

Muiden, Netherlands, June 12.—(Via London)—Fifteen members of the crew of the Norwegian steamer Bur, 1,942 tons, have been landed here. They report that their ship was sunk either by a mine or a torpedo.

DIRECTOR OF RUSS DRIVE

Gen. A. A. Brusilov, the Russian commander, whose army has broken through the Austrian lines for 100 miles on the Galician front and in five days has taken more than 50,000 prisoners. Brusilov's objective is the great Austrian fortress of Lemberg.

BOAT VICTIM IS FOUND

Gallipoli, O., June 12.—The body of Captain Lewis L. Blair, 68, of Pittsburgh, Penn., killed in the explosion of the steamer Sam Brown, in February, was found floating in the Ohio river at Brown's Landing today.

NO SPECIAL SESSION OF THE LEGISLATURE

Columbus, O., June 12.—At the office of Governor Frank B. Willis today it was said the prospect of the legislature being called into special session to enable Cleveland to present plans for gaining control of the lake front was "highly improbable."

Word reached here today that Law Director W. S. Fitzgerald, of Cleveland, would inform the city council there tonight that action by the legislature would be necessary to push plans for the new union depot to completion, as he interprets a recent decision of the supreme court to mean the state owns all rights in submerged lands.

OPEN PROBE OF GASOLINE ADVANCES

Washington, June 12.—Inquiry into the advance in the price of gasoline was begun today by the federal trade commission with representatives of the principal producing concerns on hand to testify. Commissioner Harris presided today and appearing before the commission to explain their

TRAIN RUNS INTO CROWD OF LABORERS

Cleveland, O., June 12.—New York Central passenger train No. 11, west bound, running more than two hours late in a fog, ran into a crowd of nearly two hundred workmen waiting on the tracks here for a work train early today, killed two outright, seriously injured three and bruised a score. The dead have not been identified.

HE ARRANGES FOR HIS OWN COFFIN

Sandusky, O., June 12.—Ambrose Lieb, 72, a pioneer stone mason, when informed by a physician six weeks ago that he would die in a short time, drew plans for a stone coffin and arranged details for his funeral. He died a few days after the coffin was completed and has been buried in it.

FORCE TO LEAVE MAILS

Berlin, June 12.—(Wireless to Sayville)—The Dutch steamship Reijnet, from Amsterdam for the Dutch East Indies, is said by the Overseas News Agency to have been compelled to leave her mails in England.

New York, June 12.—Efforts to read significance today into a consultation here between Charles Evans Hughes, the Republican candidate, and George W. Wickersham, as the mediator—so rumor went—in plans to gain the support of Colonel Roosevelt for the Republican candidate, were met by denial from Mr. Wickersham that his visit had any significance, at all.

While Mr. Wickersham's conference with the candidate which was held soon after Mr. Hughes' arrival here from Washington, deeply interested politicians, nothing was allowed to leak out as to the nature of their discussion. Mr. Wickersham insisted that his visit was purely a personal one and had nothing to do with politics.

"I have no expectation of seeing Colonel Roosevelt and no mission to see him," said Mr. Wickersham after emerging from a 30 minute talk with Mr. Hughes. "You entirely mistake the object of my visit. I have had no political relations with Mr. Hughes on this occasion. I am heartily and enthusiastically supporting him of course. I think that the Progressives will give him their support, and I do not expect Colonel Roosevelt to head a third ticket. But that is only guess work on my part."

Others who called upon Mr. Hughes during the forenoon, included Henry W. Taft, brother of the former president, United States Senator H. A. Lippitt, of Rhode Island, and William Cary Sanger, former assistant secretary of war under Roosevelt.

AMERICANS FLEE TO SAFETY ZONE

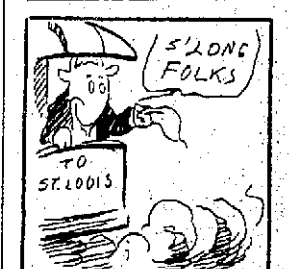

Columbus, N. M., June 12.—A party of American mining men including several merchants, from Cusiuhua and Chihuahua are said to have reached General John J. Pershing's camp at Naniquipa on their way to the border to escape persecution by Mexicans opposed to the presence of American troops. The information was brought here today by truck drivers from Casas Grandes.

FAIRBANKS IS A BUCKEYE

Marysville, O., June 12.—Mrs. Dorothy Cole, of this city, celebrated her 96 birthday today by predicting the election of her son-in-law, Charles Warren Fairbanks, of Indiana, nominated Saturday for the vice presidency by the Republican National Convention at Chicago. Mrs. Cole is very proud of her son-in-law.

And incidentally, although Fairbanks is now an Indian, he is a native of Darby township, Union county, Ohio. His wife, Mrs. Cornelia Cole Fairbanks, deceased, was born in Marysville.

Third Annual System Meeting Of O. R. C. Opened Here Sunday

Splendid Addresses Are Heard By Large Audience; Meeting Promises To Be One Of Best Ever Held

With close to fifty out of town members present and the majority of the local members in attendance the third annual system meeting of the Order of Railway Conductors and Ladies Auxiliary to the Order of Railway Conductors, Norfolk and Western Railway system, held under the auspices of the Three States Division 351 Order of Railway Conductors and Swastika Division 262 Ladies Auxiliary to the Order of Railway Conductors opened in the local high school auditorium Sunday afternoon at two o'clock.

It was with much regret that word was received that W. J. Jenks, general superintendent of Western Division of the N. & W. of Bluefield, W. Va., could not be present to deliver the main address of the afternoon.

Word was also received that A. B. Garretson, president of the O. R. C., could not make arrangements to get here in time to make his talk. A special car attached to No. 3 early Sunday morning brought about thirty-five visitors from Roanoke, Va. More arrived on the early train Sunday morning and on No. 15 Sunday afternoon. Some arrived Monday morning.

The first meeting of the kind was held in Bluefield in 1914, the second in Roanoke in 1915. This year Portsmouth has the honor of entertaining the members and judging from the splendid program of Sunday afternoon this year's meeting is to far outshine the two previous sessions. Everything for the enjoyment of the members is being carefully looked after by splendid committees.

The meeting opened at two o'clock with J. C. English, chairman of the local committee of adjustment, in charge in the place of G. O. Horn, general chairman of the O. R. C., and a member of Division 351, who was present but on account of being indisposed turned the meeting over to Mr. English. Mr. English explained that this opening session was an informal session for the public, all conductors and their families. He told of the first two annual meetings and the success of each.

"These system meetings make us better organizations and bring us in closer touch with the railway officials. The railroad man of today is on the long grade to a social uplift," said Mr. English.

City Solicitor Mayor Kaps' Place

Mayor H. H. Kaps and several of his officials were suddenly called out of the city early Sunday and City Solicitor Anselm Skelton was selected to fill the mayor's place in giving the "Welcome To Our City" address. Mr. Skelton said in part: "We pride ourselves in the fact that you have selected our city as your meeting place. We extend to you a most hearty welcome and trust that you will enjoy every minute of your time here. We extend to you every pleasure the city offers and hope you enjoy them during the convention."

Mrs. C. C. Norris, president of L. A. Division 262, on behalf of the Auxiliary, spoke a few words of welcome as follows: "We most sincerely welcome you and hope your visit will be a most pleasant one." At this juncture a large basket of flowers was sent forward and received by Chairman English. They were from Divisions 584 and 511 of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers and Ladies Auxiliary 483 to the B. of L. E. L. C. Payne, member of Division 351, welcomed the visitors on behalf of the O. R. C., Division 351. Mr. Payne in part said: "Visitors, we do not look upon you as strangers but we greet you as brothers and sisters of our organization."

I take opportunity at this time to thank the business men of Portsmouth for the part they have taken in so successfully making arrangements for your entertainment while in this city. He explained that steps had been taken to show the visitors places of interest in the city while here. "We are glad to have you with us on this occasion. I give to each and each of you a hearty welcome to our city."

Although no one was selected to fill the place of President Garretson an able speaker, G. F. Turley, was secured to fill the place of W. J. Jenks.

In opening, Mr. Turley in part said: "Portsmouth has two things to be justly proud of, her splendid instrumental and vocal musicians. I appear before you today as a sub, not a submarine, but a substitute. I am probably the oldest man in length of service present. It was 34 years ago Saturday that I started as my first regular job as messenger boy on the railroad at Hagerstown. Every man present will probably agree with me that we are working for the best railroad in the country. I see men here whom I have worked with on two other divisions before I came to the Scioto Division. I want to add my welcome to those already extended. The rapid strides made by the Norfolk and Western railroad have been phenomenal. Some idea of this can be gained by going over the gross earnings reports. The heaviest business of the road today is from the coal fields to the lakes. The Shenandoah Division is only a branch today and at first was the main feeder for the new line now carrying the heavy business. In 1882 F. J. Kimble was president of the railroad. He was a man away beyond his time. He told his officials they would live to see the day when the line would be double tracked to Columbus. The time is near at hand when we will be considering a third track."

"In 1884 or 1885 the O. R. C. was organized on the Shenandoah Division. Today you are a very powerful organization. I think I voice the opinion of nearly every official of the road when I say we believe in organized labor. It is self defense to you. The prosperity has been brought about largely by your organization and hearty co-operation. I want to caution you about one thing, don't overlook conservatism, the conservative. Another thing for the railroad men of today is the safety first movement. Safety first is old as the world but people are just awakening to the value of safety first. Self preservation is the first law of nature."

Local Committee of Adjustment: Chairman, J. C. English; Vice Chairman, R. L. Callahan; Secretary, Sam Kinsey.

Past Chief Conductors O. R. C.: J. J. Duvall, 1893; J. H. Cain, 1894-95; J. H. Hardin, 1896; M. F. Quinlan, 1897; N. A. Richards, 1898; John Gungahran, 1899-1900; 1901; J. W. Moore, 1902; W. C. Fishback, 1903; M. F. McInerney, 1904; R. L. Houchins, 1905; W. G. Hopkins, 1906; R. D. Phelps, 1907; W. M. Workman, 1908; W. G. Hopkins, 1909; W. C. Fishback, 1910; E. R. Wilkerson, 1911; C. C. Horn, 1912; L. C. Smith, 1913; R. W. Ryan, 1914; E. R. Wilkerson, 1915.

Officers Swastika Division 262: L. A. to O. R. C.: President, Mrs. C. C. Norris; Vice President, Mrs. B. S. Pagitt; Secretary, Mrs. J. C. Mercer; Senior Sister, Mrs. H. E. Reed; Junior Sister, Mrs. D. Bush; Guard, Mrs. J. O. Seerest; Musician, Mrs. W. E. Dunn; Correspondent, Mrs. J. Wilson.

Members Executive Committee: Chairman, Mrs. H. Hazlett; First Member, Mrs. W. H. Withers; Second Member, Mrs. Clara Smith.

At 9:30 o'clock Monday morning the visitors and a number of local members gathered at the high school building where they awaited the automobiles furnished by the members of the Board of Trade and Business Men's Association and railroad men. There were nineteen cars in line when the order to "go" was given about ten o'clock. The cars were decorated with gayly colored pennants and streaming ribbons and the visitors carried canes bedecked with ribbons. The cars slowly made their way through the beautiful residential district and then out Scioto Trail and around terminals from Roanoke, Va. He the "flag", a distance of over 30 miles, counting the ride around trainmen. In part he said: "It is wonderful the great strides that many times of the beautiful homes are being made. The words Norfolk and Western are synonymous with honesty, reliability and courtesy. Everything that is good in railroading is embodied in this road. The officials are men of great responsibility." He told of the medal being awarded to the Scioto Division for being the safest division of any railroad in the United States and gave illustrations and comparisons in the safety movement. The N. & W. was the only railroad who did not ask for an extension of time when the government said to put on safety appliances.

Mrs. H. E. Reed, member of Division 262, was the last speaker of the afternoon. She spoke of the two former system meetings and the great good that came from them. "I have longed many times to return thanks for the good times I enjoyed at the other two system meetings. This meeting is one of my dreams coming true. We are too far apart. A union meeting of all railroad orders held annually would be a good thing and I hope the time is near when it will be held."

Chairman English thanked the members and visitors for their attendance and introduced C. C. Horn, who made a few remarks in explanation of the meetings today.

Too much praise cannot be given the musical end of the program. Bode's Orchestra rendered the following selections: "Made in U. S. A.," "The Candy Shop," "Renaissance Hits," "Baskets of Roses," "A Winsome Widow." Norma Hark Young rendered two splendid vocal solos with Mrs. Samuel Crawford as accompanist. The Pilgrim Singers were at their best and sang beautifully "The Lord Is Great," "When the Little Ones Say 'Good Night,'" and "Doan Ye Cry Ma Honey." Rev. W. T. Gilliland gave the invocation and Rev. E. G. Hamilton the benediction.

Following are the committees who are taking care of every detail:

C. C. Horn, Chairman, Roanoke, Va.

Program: R. W. Ryan, L. C. 1882 F. J. Kimble was president of the railroad. He was a man away beyond his time. He told his officials they would live to see the day when the line would be double tracked to Columbus. The time is near at hand when we will be considering a third track.

Reception: H. H. Gillispie, L. D. Burton, J. C. English, Mrs. J. C. Mercer, Mrs. N. H. Frasier, Mrs. C. C. Norris.

Hotels: E. C. Davis, Sam Kinsey, W. H. Withers.

Will Sloan's Liniment Relieve Pain?

Try it and see—no application will prove more than a column of claims. James S. Ferguson, Phila. Pa., writes: "I have had wonderful relief since I used Sloan's Liniment on my knees. To think after all these years of pain one application gave me relief. Many thanks for what your remedy has done for me." Don't keep on suffering, apply Sloan's Liniment where your pain is and notice how quick you get relief. Penetrates without rubbing. Buy it at any drug store. 25c.

Examine Your TEETH Tonight

—after you clean them.

You will find, in all probability, an accumulation of tartar on the enamel and bits of food deposit hiding between the crevices. YOUR DENTIFRICE does not FULLY CLEAN! Loss of teeth is caused usually by one of two conditions—Pyorrhea or decay, both of which develop, as a rule, only in the mouth where germ-laden tartar is present.

SENRECO, the recently discovered formula of a dental specialist, is two-fold in its action. First, it REALLY CLEANS, embodying specially prepared, soluble granules unusually effective in cleaning away food deposits. Second, it is particularly destructive to the germ of Pyorrhea. Yet it is perfectly safe, containing neither injurious chemicals nor hard grit.

Avoid Pyorrhea and decay. Get Senreco from your dealer today. In large tubes, 25c. Send 4c to Senreco, 304 Walnut Street, Cincinnati, Ohio, for liberal-sized trial package.

Tries To Board Moving Train; Workman Is Badly Injured

An attempt to board a rapidly moving westbound C. & O. freight train as it was passing through South Portsmouth at 5 o'clock Sunday morning resulted in serious injuries being suffered by George H. Ferguson, aged 23, who is employed on the government dam being built just below the city. He missed the step on one of the cars and was thrown headlong to the side of the train, his body rolling down a small embankment. He suffered a broken collarbone, his left ear was almost torn off, his right wrist was sprained and cinders were ground in the left side of his face. After receiving medical attention he was taken to Kirkville, near the new dam.

FEEDS THOUSAND HEARS ONE TALE

Proprietor of Toledo's Biggest Restaurant Repeats Tale of Hundreds of Men

"About two months ago it started," began Clarence M. Bahcock, proprietor of the big Cherry restaurant at 312 Cherry street, Toledo, O., where more than 1,000 Toledoans are served daily. "One customer after another would come in, give his order, and tell how good he felt."

"It seemed that from day to day I heard hundreds of men telling how well they felt—and proving it by their meals—and ascribing it to one thing—Tanlac. You see, there are more than one thousand customers every day at the Cherry. Most of them are pretty busy, but they have time enough to pass a good thing along. So they told me about Tanlac, and kept telling me every day."

"Indoor work and long hours had begun to tell on me pretty hard. I had to drag myself through the day's work. Kidney trouble was causing me fearful pains, I had no appetite and couldn't sleep, and the constant grind had affected my stomach, too. For four months I had been a fine example of the man who is 'all run down.'"

"I had grown nervous and had lost twenty pounds in less than two months. I didn't feel as if I had energy enough to work a day through. I was irritable and far from being myself."

"There can be but one answer to this Tanlac story that's continued every day. I decided. If hundreds of level-headed men come in here and praise Tanlac and say it has restored their appetites, toned them up, made them sleep and generally benefited them it must be true. So I bought Tanlac."

"Now I am feeling just one hundred per cent better. I have a good appetite. My work looks good to me and I have the energy to take care of it. Customer after customer says to me: 'Clarence what have you been doing to yourself that you have changed so?' And I like to hear it, and then I tell them I have been taking Tanlac. Get some, it's great."

Tanlac, the tonic, appetizer and invigorant that won this statement from a conservative business man, is being introduced in Portsmouth at the Fisher & Streich pharmacy.

Members of the Hempstead Academy of Medicine and their wives Monday enjoyed an outing in Wheelersburg, which was topped off with a delicious chicken dinner at the Baker House. No program was arranged, the day being devoted to open air festivities.

"We have planned a series of similar outings to promote a closer relationship between the city and rural doctors and our next one will probably be held at McDermott," Secretary Dr. Oral D. Tetje stated Monday.

Deed Filed For Land For 'Small Farm' Scheme

Alan N. Jordan and Leslie C. Turley, who recently purchased 1279.855 acres of land in Porter township, from the Harbison-Walker Refractories company, filed the deed for record with Henry Becker, county recorder, Monday. The purchase price was $10,368.

According to an announcement made by Leslie Turley several weeks ago, the land will be subdivided into small farms and will be placed upon the market. The owners will construct an improved road through the property.

The land purchased is situated just north of Gallia pike and extends from School Land Hollow to a point near Seletoville.

Saturday afternoon, at four o'clock, at the Trinity church parsonage, in this city, Miss Edna Carver, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Carver, of Harrisonville pike, was united in marriage to Samuel Lairson, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Lairson, of Stanton avenue. The bride wore a beautiful white suit, with hat, shoes and gloves to match. Those present at the wedding were Mrs. J. W. Carver, mother of the bride, Mrs. Joe Lairson, mother of the groom, Mrs. Harry Smith, sister of the bride, Miss Jane Dalton, cousin of the groom. At six o'clock a wedding supper was served at the home of the groom's parents. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Joe Lairson, Mrs. J. W. Carver, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Smith, Miss Jane Dalton, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Oliver and Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Lairson. The many friends of the couple wish them many years of prosperity and happiness.

Was the Frank Hubbard home, on West Stanton avenue, robbed? Mr. Hubbard says he arrived home about six o'clock Sunday evening and stumbled over a dresser drawer when he went in the front room door. A back gate was open, as was the kitchen door facing on the alley. Drawers had been pulled out and ransacked, according to Mr. Hubbard. Mrs. Hubbard says not a thing is missing and that her husband put the drawers on the floor to fool her and touch her a lesson, as she almost always goes away and leaves the house open. Marshal W. L. Davis was called.

Louis Klemme, manager of Will Center's cash grocery, made a trip to Cincinnati, Sunday, and visited home folks. He returned Monday noon.

No clue has been found of the person, or persons, who robbed the John Emmert pool room recently.

Orville Price, well known young man, of Seletoville, who holds a splendid position at the steel plant, was not the person arrested Friday night in Millbrook park. The young man arrested gave the name of Orville Price and gave his home as on the Hilltop, city. The young man arrested is employed in the same department with Orville Price and he has apologized for the injustice done his friend.

Fred Wintersole, well known steel plant roller, who lives in one of the Emmert cottages on Gallia street, had his left wrist fractured Saturday when he fell on the front steps at his home. He will be off duty about nine weeks.

Members of the Mission Circle will meet tonight at the home of Miss Zelma Pollard, on East Rhodica avenue.

The New Boston Liberties lost to the North End Stars in Portsmouth Sunday by the score of 5 to 3. Jim Taylor pitched fine ball, but three errors in the eighth frame gave the game to the city boys. The two teams play here next Sunday.

Martin Hall, health officer, of Ohio avenue, claims he is the champion rat catcher of the village. Several nights ago he caught 20 in a trap in his stable, where the rats have been making merry in his corn.

A foreigner arrested Saturday night for indecent conduct was released Sunday on a $10 bond.

Earl Adkins, who was arrested by Marshal Ila Wells Saturday night on a charge of disorderly conduct, broke and ran when they were in front of the shooting gallery on Gallia street, near the mayor's office. All that Wells brought to the office was Adkins' straw hat.

Mrs. Clara Henning and Bessie Yuley, of Wall's Station, were guests of their sister, Mrs. Thurman Emory, of Harrisonville avenue, Monday.

Steel company electricians started work hanging electric lights on Vine street Monday.

Hiram Hickman, steel worker, of Gallia street, has placed an order for a Ford touring car.

Will Cantor and children, Kenneth and Margaret, and D. Riekey moved to Ironton, Sunday.

Gilbert Groninger, of Oak street, who was hit by an automobile several days ago, is getting along nicely.

Miss Margaret Emmert and Miss Blanche Henry, of Gallia street, have taken positions as clerks at the new five and ten cent store in the city.

RugsBuy Rugs Now
at AndersonsEvery Home Should Buy RUGS Now in Anticipation of The Higher Prices Coming

We are reluctant to advance rug prices but as our present stock is sold and must be replaced by new purchases for which we have to pay the increased prices, our prices will necessarily have to soar.

There are rugs which we have now in stock, bought at the old low prices which show no advance; also we are to receive other purchases at much lower prices than the mills quote today.

Owing to our preparedness, our rug section gives you a respite for a while from the high price edict that is coming. It is the part of wisdom to purchase now what rugs you will need in the near future. To buy your fall rugs now would be the best of economy. Here are a few prices on qualities that you know.

Room Size 9x12 Rugs

SEAMLESS BRUSSELS RUGS at $10.00, BODY BRUSSELS RUGS at $20.00, $25.00 and $32.50.

Memorial Services Held
By W. B. A. Of Maccabees

Exceptionally impressive were the memorial services of the Women's Benevolent Association, of the Maccabees held Sunday afternoon in the Knights of Maccabees hall, Sixth and Chillicothe streets. The majority of the members of the order and their relatives were in attendance. Commander Lydia Hornbuckle was in charge of the services. Exemplification of the ritualistic work was given by the guards under the direction of Captain Grace Hayes. The eulogy of Miss Ruth Winterstein, who answered the call to the Great Beyond this past year, was given by Record Keeper Mary Hobstetter. During services at the altar, a splendid duet was rendered by Mrs. Hayes and Mrs. Hobstetter. The services closed after the rendering of the roll call of all departed members, as follows: Mrs. Stella Shultz, Mrs. Charlotte Hubert, Mrs. Martha Warnock and Miss Ruth Winterstein.

TERMINALS

The interest in the Tabernacle services continues. Two souls were sanctified last night after a strong sermon by Rev. King on the subject of "A Clean Heart is a Necessary Requirement in order to Reach Heaven."

The Junior League meeting Sunday morning was well attended. The girls' Bible class sang sweetly, "How Much I Owe," and Miss Myrtle Boyd gave the Gospel message from the Parable of the Sower. The report of the prayer meetings conducted by the Junior girls showed a total of five prayer meetings held during the week, with a total attendance of 51, 4 saved and 4 sanctified.

The Young Ladies' Bible class will meet tonight at 7:30. Mrs. O. L. King will lead.

Cottage prayer meeting Tuesday evening at 7:30 at the home of Ernest Fain, 1521 Poplar street.

Will Operate Special Train To
Cincinnati For O. R. C. Visitors

It was decided Monday afternoon to run a special train to Cincinnati Tuesday morning for the Order of Railway Conductors' members and many out-of-town visitors, who are to make the trip to Coney Island. The train will consist of four or five coaches and will leave here at 8:50 a. m. L. C. Payne, one of the most popular N. & W. conductors and alive wire in the O. R. C., will be the conductor. Close to 200 are expected to make the trip, which will be the closing feature of the convention. Steamboats will carry the crowd to Coney Island from Cincinnati.

BAKER TO PERSONALLY
REPRESENT SOCIETY

Washington, D. C., June 12.—Secretary of War Newton D. Baker, of Ohio, will be President Wilson's personal representative at the Democratic National Convention. He leaves tonight for St. Louis, carrying with him a practically complete draft of a platform, including several of the more important planks written by the president himself for the consideration of the platform committee.

It had been planned to have the president represented by the man chosen as chairman of the national Democratic committee. This selection has been delayed, however, and it was decided to send Secretary Baker.

Mr. Baker has been fully acquainted with the president's ideas on every conceivable situation which may arise and will keep in touch with the White House by telephone and telegraph. Associated with him in looking after the president's interests will be Senators James Hughes and Stone, Representatives Doremus and Frederick W. Steckman publicity manager of the Democratic National Committee. Emphasis was laid today on the fact that President Wilson will make no effort to dictate the exact phraseology of the platform to be considered by the platform committee headed by Senator Stone. He is anxious that the document be kept as short as possible.

Mr. and Mrs. Will H. Doerr and daughter, Miss Ethel Doerr, John Monahan, John Brushart, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Bridges, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Bridges, Will H. McMoray, Fred Klingman, Edward J. Gims, Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Ferguson, Harry B. Maupin, Allen Slatery and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Willey, have returned from Columbus, where they attended the annual state convention of the United Commercial Travelers last week. The meetings were held in the U. C. T. headquarters, on Goodale street, and were well attended. The 1917 U. C. T. convention went to Newark, O.

The deferred meeting of the Central W. O. T. U. will be held Tuesday evening at 7:30 o'clock, at the home of Mrs. B. W. Hopkins, on Third street.

Mr. and Mrs. L. Davidson, of Bunden, are visiting Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Davidson, of 1146 Fourth street.

Mr. and Mrs. George Appel, of Clifford, served an elegant dinner and supper Sunday to the following guests: Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Brant, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Appel and adopted daughter, Lena Sampson, of Lucasville, Mr. and Mrs. James Appel and daughter, Mary, of Clifford, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Appel and children, Elizabeth, Theodore, Ruth and Katherine, of the Bannock farm, Carl and William Appel and Ralph Appel, of Portsmouth.

Mr. and Mrs. Philip Weyrich and son, Robert, of Hillsboro, O., arrived in this city Saturday evening for a few days' visit with their brother-in-law and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. D. Lee Reeves, of Robinson avenue.

Mary Louise Tilton of 2123 Seventh, who has been suffering with measles for the past few days is improving nicely.

Mr. and Mrs. B. I. Allen, of Louisville, Ky., former residents of Portsmouth, arrived here Sunday and will spend part of a two weeks' vacation in the River City.

HAVERHILL

Mrs. M. E. Yingling spent Friday in Portsmouth, the guest of her sister, Mrs. C. W. Rowe, and attended the chess play at the High school in the evening.

Miss Jessie Bunshaw was a visitor in Tronton, Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Royce and daughters, Edith and Mrs. Helen Oglesby, of Middletown, were the Sunday guests of Mrs. Yingling and daughter, Miss Linnie Heid.

Mrs. Frank Boynton had as guests Sunday her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Fout, of Franklin Furnace.

Edward Smeltzer, of Colegrove, was a business visitor at the home of Birdie Johnson this week.

The Missionary Society of Haverhill church met with Mrs. S. E. Cricenberger Wednesday afternoon.

Mrs. Page was a business visitor in Tronton, Wednesday.

Abner Birmingham took 56 gallons of cherries to Tronton, Tuesday.

The Haverhill Sunday school will have their Children's Day exercises Sunday evening.

She Owed Her Owe. Beesie—All men are alike. Com—Oh, are they? Then of course you're not sorry you married Harry.—Judge.

Nathan Welch, of Friendship, spent Sunday evening with D. A. Evans and family.

Oscar Chatman, Ray Richard, Kado Webb, James and Clyde Stephenson, Clyde Evans, Jr., Roy Briggs, Arthur Evans, Green Blevins, Pat Holsinger, Frank Kennedy, Homer Charles, Raymond and Dewey Brownfield, and a host of others, all of this town, are on the leap year ticket. Girls all draw straws. See who will be first.

Amos Warner, of Goose Run, returned home Tuesday after spending a few weeks with relatives and friends in Kentucky. Glad to see you, Amos.

Willie Cooper, of McGaw P. O., is spending a few days with his uncle and family, D. A. Evans, of Pine Grove.

Now is a good time to subscribe for The Portsmouth Times, to get the news.

HOLY REDEEMER CHURCH NOTES

Holy Name members about seventy-five, received holy communion at Pentecost Sunday. The society will give a church lawn social on Thursday, June 29.

The collection for seminaries amount to $167, the largest ever taken up for this purpose. Holy Redeemer school children will picnic on this coming Thursday at Millbrook park. The children will first attend mass at 7:30 when they will be furnished street car tickets for round trip.

A baseball game between players of St. Mary's and Holy Redeemer teams will take place in the morning. After the game both teams will be treated to ice cream by the pastor. A cordial invitation is extended to parents and others of the parish to join the children with well filled lunch baskets and make this outing a pleasant one.

The revised and approved plans for Holy Redeemer's new school have arrived and will be found at the Central National bank. General contractors of the city are notified bids will be received up to noon Friday, June 16. Mail bids to Rev. J. E. McGuirk, pastor of Holy Redeemer church.

A. G. DUNN PRESIDENT OF REVISION BOARD

The board of revisions met Monday and effected an organization, electing A. G. Dunn president; John Jones, vice president, and S. D. Eckhart, secretary. The members of the board are A. G. Dunn, John Jones and Ernest Riekey.

The board will meet four or five times each week to revise the personal tax returns. No complaints will be received or considered until the August session. This is required by statutory measures.

M'LEAN'S SON
GETS ESTATE

Washington, D. C., June 12.—John R. McLean's will, filed in court here today, provides that all personal property and the income of the late publisher's vast estate, shall go to his son, Edward B. McLean, and that upon the latter's death the estate shall pass to his children. In any event, it provides that Edward McLean's children shall receive $100,000 when they reach the age of 21 years, $100,000 additional at thirty, and another $100,000 at thirty-five.

In regard to the newspaper properties the will stipulated that the Washington Post and Cincinnati Enquirer shall not be sold without the consent of Francis Thomer, a Baltimore lawyer, who handled much of McLean's business. It directs that present business and editorial managers be retained as long as the Enquirer belongs to the estate and comments that the present management of the Post be continued. The American Security and Trust Company of Washington, is made executor and trustee.

THE MARKETS

NEW YORK STOCKS

New York, N. Y., June 12—The stock market's response to last Saturday's political happenings was a general advance in quoted values on a broad speculative demand.

New York, June 12—Accepting the course of today's early market as a criterion the speculative community came to regard latest developments in the political situation with some enthusiasm. Prices bounded upward vigorously at the opening, U. S. Steel being most conspicuous, rising a point on transactions extending from 1,400 to 4,000 shares.

Other active industrials and representative railway stocks as well as shipping issues and leaders of the munitions group rose 1 to 2 points. Air brake made the greatest gain, adding five points to last week's rise. Trading was broad with signs of a renewal of public interest.

The temptation to take profits caused a temporary set back of a point or more in such active stocks as Reading, St. Paul, Baldwin Locomotive and Mexican petroleum, but original gains were augmented by a fresh buying movement. Demand for rails including New York Central in which a single block of 7,800 shares changed hands, was the broadest for some weeks, Canadian Pacific and New Haven constituting the other very strong features of this part of the list. Various specialties improved more moderately over initial quotations but coppers were backward.

Before midday trading slackened perceptibly but prices were well maintained. Bonds were firm.

Profit taking became more effective toward the end, some important issues again receding a point from the highest price. The closing was strong.

a material further drop in values. The close was unsettled 1/4 to 3/8 lower with July at $1.03 and Sept. $1.04 1/2.

Warmth and sunshine caused a general rush to sell corn. On the ensuing decline little support was encountered. After opening 3/4 to 3/8 down the market continued to show a tendency to sag.

The close was nervous at 1/8 to 1/4 to 1/2 net decline.

Oats gave way with other grain. Commission houses were almost unanimously on the selling side.

Higher prices of hogs rallied the provision market. Buying, however, was in the main of a scattered sort.

LOCAL U. S. MARINE IN SANTO DOMINGO

Leonidas Peed, son of John Peed, R. F. D. No. 1, of this place, is with the expeditionary force of U. S. Marines recently rushed to Santo Domingo on board the U. S. S. Tennessee, for the protection of the American legation there during the current revolt against President Jimenes. When insurrection breaks out anywhere to the south, of Key West or north of Venezuela, the U. S. Marines are always first on the spot. Preparedness is the motto of the marine "soldier and sailor, too"—always prepared for service in any climate—always prepared to move at a moment's notice without previous warning, and always prepared to efficiently hold the "situation" well in hand. Young Peed enlisted in the United States Marine Corps at its Cincinnati recruiting station on February 9, 1916.

VIRGINIA MUST WAIT

Washington, D. C., June 12.—The supreme court today denied the petition of the Commonwealth of Virginia for an immediate order to the court's marshal to sell property of the state of West Virginia to satisfy the $12,000,000 judgment against the latter in the Virginia-West Virginia state debt case. The court's action was based solely on the ground that the West Virginia legislature had not met in regular session since the agreement was entered.

CIVIL WAR VETERANS ASSEMBLING AT MARION

VETERANS TO BE WELL HOUSED

Encampment Arrangements at Marion Elaborate.

LOCAL COMMITTEES ACTIVE

Five Steam Railroads and Two Interurban Lines to Run Special Trains to Accommodate the Large Crowns Anticipated During State Meeting of Grand Army; June 12 to 15—Monter Preparedness Parade to Be a Feature of the Second Day.

Marion, O.—(Special).—All that is needed is the weather to make the Marion meeting of the Civil War veterans the greatest state meeting ever held in the United States. This is the opinion of the officers of the department of Ohio, who visited Marion this week and acquainted themselves with the program and the elaborate arrangements which have been made. The fund to defray the cost of the encampment, has jumped to nearly $10,000, which insures a remarkable program of entertainment from the hour the first gun is fired, Monday, the 12th. No small portion of this sum will be spent for music and decorations. The number of reservations which have been secured number 8,000, which means that Marion will be able to house the visitors in an easy manner.

Eight regiments will hold their annual reunion at Marion. The Medal Legion of Honor will hold its annual meeting in the offices of the White Sulphur Stone company. Every member of this order is a recipient of a medal, awarded by congress for valor. The Thirtieth Ohio Cavalry Association will meet in Marion. The G. A. R. hosts of Ashland, Wooster, Mansfield, Lima, Kenton, Delaware, Upper Sandusky and Bucyrus are among the number of guests which will attend in a body. Large delegations from the soldiers' homes at Dayton and Sandusky will attend. Memorial Post No. 141 of Cleveland, with guns and colors, will be here sixty strong for escort duty. Forsythe Post of Toledo, with guns and colors, will be here to act as an escort for Department Commander Seely P. Mount and National Commander Elias R. Montfort. Company K, Old Guard, Columbus, and Company B, Old Guard, Newark, wearing the uniforms of '61, will be here to full strength. A many life and drum corps will feature the parades as a national encampment hosts of, including the Corps of Gallipoli, Columbus, Marion, Mansfield, Newark and Ashland. These drum corps will march in the parades of Tuesday and Wednesday and will also be in line, along with twenty bands, in the G. A. R. parade of the closing day, Thursday. So strategic is the location of Marion, served by five railroads and two interurban lines, that an especially large crowd is anticipated. The Pennsylvania railroad will run a special train from Marietta June 12, among the passengers on which will be the thirty members of the Newcomerstown band. The Erie and Big Four roads will run special trains, and thirty-four special cars over interurban lines have already been arranged for. This indicates the magnitude of the encampment.

One of the few surviving veterans of the Mexican War will be a prominent figure of the encampment, namely, Colonel John Conwell of Cadiz, Ohio. L. Vant Dodge, junior vice commander of the national organization, engaged a reservation this week. Mr. Dodge is president of Berea university, Berea, Ky. Few soldiers of the Civil War were under fire more than Major S. N. Titus of Marion, who is beloved throughout the state by his comrades and who will figure in the program. Another well known veteran who resides in Marion, and who has a host of friends throughout Ohio, is Joseph E. Crow, color bearer of the One Hundred and Seventy-fourth regiment. During a later engagement of the war, Color Bearer Crow was shot and fell on his flag.

pital tent and the rest room are to be in the rear of the residence of Dr. Dana O. Weeks, one of the leading members of the State Medical association. The hospital committee is headed by Dr. Weeks. The hospital is to be known as the Oliver W. Weeks Hospital, in memory of the father of Dr. Weeks, who, in 1894, was the surgeon general of the national encampment, and in the preceding year was the medical director of the Department of Ohio. Oliver W. Weeks was largely responsible for the beautiful memorial chapel in Marion.

FRANK GLOSSER, Chairman of Decorating Committee.

Here-with are reproduced likenesses of a number of Marion people who have been especially active in the encampment work. A. C. Edmondson, banker, the chairman of the finance committee, is deserving of a large share of the credit for securing the $10,000 fund, and his unbounded enthusiasm and tireless energy have been major factors in the success of the work. Mr. Edmondson is the son of Captain Robert Edmondson, who recruited a company at Urbana. Hon. T. E. Andrews, formerly of the local militia and a veteran of the Spanish War, has charge of the monster preparedness parade to be staged Tuesday night, June 13, in which companies of militia from Gallon, Bucyrus, Delaware, Kenton and Marion will be in line. float. Members of every fraternal organization in the city will be in line. Several industries of the city are planning special features, and one may be expected from the mammoth steel mills recently built in Marion, in the event the mills are ready for operation at that time. E. J. Schoenlaub, chairman of the conventions committee of the chamber of commerce, is responsible for securing the encampment for Marion, and has figured largely in the arrangements. George H. Whysall, president of the C. M. & B. Ry. Co., has been an indispensable factor in all angles of the work, and is a member of practically every committee. Frank Glosser, chairman of the decorative committee, has outlined a plan for the decoration of the city which will surpass the decoration features of any G. A. R. encampment, according to the Fera Decorating company of Cincinnati, which is carrying out Mr. Glosser's plan. As the manager of the light and power plant of the Columbus, Delaware & Marion Railway company, Mr. Glosser has been a very valuable man for this chairmanship, and the plans which he has evolved for the electric illumination of the city will turn night into day. J. P. Prendergast, who is perhaps better known among railroad men than any other man in the central west, is the head of the transportation committee. Through his efforts widespread publicity from the railroads has been secured, and all details as to adequate train service have been attended to. Another leader in the work is Arthur J. Berry, president of the Marion Chamber of Commerce, who as the head of the city's commercial organization, is desirous that effort be strained to make the program of the golden anniversary reflect credit on the home city of United States Senator Warren G. Harding. Mr. Berry joins with Colonel George B. Christian, chairman of the executive committee, in the belief that the Marion encampment will go down in the G. A. R. annals of the country as a red letter event.

Mr. Wirsching's mother-in-law, Mrs. Mary E. Brand, aged 82 years of No. 1507 Sixth street, was the only one injured, she sustaining bruises about the knee. The others escaped with a severe shaking up. They included Mrs. Wirsching and sister, Miss Rose Brand. The windshield and top of the car was mashed. The car was able to proceed on its own power after gotten back in position on the road.

Portsmouth Men Were At G. O. P. Convention

Harrison R. Allen, local insurance agent returned Monday from Chicago where he attended the republican national convention. Mr. Allen left last Monday with W. F. Miller but were not certain that they would be able to get even a "look in" at the convention.

"We were just very lucky," said Mr. Allen, "for the Portsmouth party secured us two tickets. It was one of the greatest meetings I have ever seen or ever hope to see again. The first day there were over twelve thousand people in the coliseum. The building you know is so large that Ringling Brothers circuses was held there."

"We secured seats about fifty feet away from the speakers' stand. The opening address by Senator Warren G. Harding was the best speech of the convention. "Two days before the convention made a nomination it was generally believed that Hughes would be the only man upon whom the delegates could concentrate." Mr. Allen says that the Ohio

Small Contributors Will Get In

Contributors who gave $5 or more to the $100,000 fund that brought the convention to St. Louis were made happy today by an announcement that they would get tickets to at least one session of the convention. The association which raised the fund has 2,300 tickets and they will be parceled out in proportion to the amounts subscribed.

Heretofore tickets have been given only to contributors of $50 or more.

The convention managers are hearing from delegates on every hand suggestions that four day session is too long for a convention which knows in advance what it proposes to do. With the presidential nomination entirely settled and only consideration of the other names that Vice President Marshall for the second place. Some of the delegates who want to hurry home cannot understand why nominations cannot be reached before Friday night. They are being told by the leaders that aside from the fact that President Wilson himself chose Friday night for his nomination, the convention has more purposes than nominations and adoption of a platform. It brings together leaders from all parts of the country they pointed out, who have various questions to settle, among themselves and enables them to plan the campaign.

Moreover, as people of St. Louis principally those who expect to benefit from the convention crowds have given $100,000 for the meeting, it is contended that they should have four days in which to gather their returns.

Mr. Bryan May Address Convention

The convention managers realize the necessity of keeping the delegates interested. It was understood that at some time during the speech making, William J. Bryan might be invited to address the convention on party achievements. Mr. Bryan would speak at a time when there was no other business before the convention.

There are hints of "stunts" being arranged to enliven the sessions but the managers are keeping them quiet, and it is said, want to spring them as a surprise.

Mr. Bryan who his friends say, is expected to appear before the resolution committee at the opening session to urge the adoption of planks on peace and prohibition and other questions he advocates. His appearance there may furnish one of the exciting incidents of the committee meetings as many of its members recalled today that Mr. Bryan had more than any other man to do with the framing of the platform in Baltimore four years ago.

Aside from the two public appearances, Mr. Bryan, his friends say, will not take an active part in the convention, but will devote most of his time to his work as a newspaper correspondent.

There was some talk today of an effort to insert in the platform a plank urging legislation to prevent withdrawal of Federal judges from office to take any other federal office or become a candidate for such an office.

More influential members of the national committee were not inclined to believe such a plank would be long considered by the resolutions committee. They pointed out that it might confront the Democratic party some day and stand in the way of its taking a candidate from the Federal bench.

Many national figures in the party already have arrived and others are coming on special trains tomorrow.

KEYNOTE ADDRESS WILL COME WEDNESDAY

St. Louis, Mo., June 12.—Preliminary to the opening of the Democratic National convention, the members of the national committee are here today to meet and pass upon the final arrangements of the convention, whose 1912 delegates are to name the party ticket. The committee also had before it five contests, three of which involve the seats of the national committee of the district of Columbia, Hawaii and Texas. Another contest involves the seat of a delegate from Hawaii and the fifth contest embraces a protest against the seating of the six delegates of the District of Columbia.

"We expect a short session of the committee," said Chairman McCombs. "The convention arrangements are all perfected and the contests before the committee should be speedily settled. We have made a change in our convention program. The first session will be held Wednesday, when the temporary chairman will make the keynote speech, and the committees will be appointed. The next day the convention will hear the speech of the permanent chairman and addresses of prominent Democrats."

"On Friday there will be a morning session, when the platform will be heard and adopted, and on Friday night we will name the ticket."

National Chairman McCombs held a conference with Senator Wm. J. Stone, who will be the chairman of the resolution committee. Senator Stone brought with him from Washington certain drafts of more important planks that have been sketched in some detail by President Wilson and his advisers in congress and the cabinet.

The principal planks that await presentation to the platform committee are the foreign relations, the Mexican situation, preparedness and tariff. The foreign relation plank will set forth the unprecedented conditions that have arisen as a result of the war and it will be pointed out that while President Wilson has kept us from strife he has also maintained a neutrality both strict and honest.

The plank on the Mexican situation will develop that this question has been approached with the idea of keeping peace, not only with the Mexican republic, but to maintain peace within her own borders.

On the question of preparedness the platform will assert that the world-wide situation by an advanced stage of preparedness of the navy and the re-organization of the national guard.

The tariff plank will point out that the reduction of tariff duties, so that the income from that source in normal times would meet the needs of the government, is an achievement of the Democratic party.

The national committeemen are awaiting an intimation from President Wilson as to whom he would prefer as the chairman of the committee to succeed Mr. McCombs, who has announced his retirement.

Committeemen here say that if President Wilson's choice lies with the committee membership, it probably will be Vice-Chairman Homer Cummings of Connecticut.

Mr. Cummings said that he was not a candidate for office, but if called upon would serve.

Early trains brought scores of delegates and visitors to St. Louis today, and National Chairman McCombs said there was every indication that large crowds would attend the convention.

"This is a remarkable tribute to President Wilson and the party," said Mr. McCombs, when one came in yellow parasols, will stand in the line on both sides of the main street through which the delegates will pass on their way to the convention, is going to be an effective taking form and the national committee says it will be ready in ample time. St. Louis hung out bunting and flags in profusion today and women's campaign at other conventions appeared everywhere. In those where controversy was relied on to make up their points.

Fairbanks Accepts The Republican Nomination For Vice President

Indianapolis, Ind., June 12.—Charles Warren Fairbanks, in a statement given out here Saturday night, accepted the nomination for vice president made at the Republican National Convention in Chicago. His statement follows:

"I was not a candidate for the Vice Presidential nomination and requested the chairman of the Indiana delegation to withdraw my name if presented. The nomination was made and the convention adjourned before my dispatch was received. I feel it my duty, under the circumstances, to accept the commission which the party has so generously and unanimously placed in my hands."

Mr. Fairbanks has received telegrams of congratulations from all parts of the country. Mr. Fairbanks this afternoon sent the following telegram to Mr. Hughes:

"Hon. Charles E. Hughes, Washington, D. C.:
"I most heartily congratulate you upon your selection as the leader of the Republican party in the present national contest."

MEXICO CITY MAY BY ATTACKED

New York, June 12.—Zapata, considered by Mexicans as the most formidable factional leader now opposing the Carranza government, is encamped with a large body of well equipped men within thirty miles of Mexico City and an attack on the capital is expected at any time, according to Howard L. Francis, an engineer, recently connected with the Mexico City Tramway Company, who arrived here today on the steamship Morro Castle from Havana.

Mr. Francis said he left Mexico "in a hurry" to avoid arrest, suspicion being directed against him on account of his activity to obtain the release of H. A. Dunn, chief engineer of the Tramway Company, a British controlled organization.

HUGHES JUMPS INTO THE CAMPAIGN; TO CONSULT LEADERS

Washington, D. C., June 12.—

Charles E. Hughes, after six years spent in seclusion from politics, today jumped into his presidential campaign. Without awaiting formal notification that he had been chosen to lead the Republican national ticket, he arranged to go to New York today to confer with party leaders there.

Plans for the coming campaign and selection of a national committee chairman and questions to be emphasized in the official notification were to be discussed, it was said. It was expected that Mr. Hughes would meet former Attorney General George W. Wickersham, Frederick C. Turner, chairman of the New York State Republican Committee; Frank H. Hitchcock, leader of the Hughes boom at Chicago; Governor Whitman and others. He has not announced his plans for returning.

He has been out of intimate touch with politics so long, however, he wants to get information and guidance from close friends in New York. The new presidential candidate was the object of much interest in Washington yesterday. Many persons drove past his residence in hope of getting a glimpse of the former justice and so many moving picture men swarmed about him on his way to church that the Hughes family was late to services.

New York, June 12.—Charles E. Hughes came here today for the first campaign conference. He arrived from Washington at 7:05 a. m. via the Baltimore and Ohio railroad and ferry to West Twenty-third street and went to the hotel where he will spend the day. He said he had nothing to tell just yet regarding his plans, but promised to see newspaper men later in the day.

Although the police department had been notified of the Republican candidate's coming and had sent detectives to meet his train, his arrival here at such an early hour was generally unexpected. He was met at the ferry station by Public Service Commissioner Travis H. Whitney, and William J. Cox, a New York attorney, and former members of the public service commission.

Mr. Hughes, secretary, Lawrence H. Green, accompanied him from Washington and his first caller after he reached his hotel was Robert Fuller, who was his secretary when he was governor of New York.

Mr. Hughes received newspaper men during the forenoon but declined to discuss his plans. He was asked how it felt to be drafted for the biggest job in the world. "I can only say," he replied, "there are certain circumstances under which a matter of duty is supremely clear and which leaves no ground for hesitancy in this case. There was no question in this situation to what I should do. In my announcement, I endeavored to make my attitude clear."

"I came here to hold consultations regarding arrangements for the future. I can say nothing in respect to the details at this time."

Mr. Hughes then posed smilingly for moving pictures and cameras men.

There was a procession of local Republicans to visit him and Mr. Hughes spent the forenoon in receiving them. Shortly before 11 o'clock George W. Wickersham appeared and was immediately ushered into Mr. Hughes' rooms, where he went into conference with the candidate. Mr. Wickersham declined to state the object of his visit or to direct rumors that he was acting as a mediator in plans to obtain progressive support for the Republican candidate. He reiterated his denial that he had been in consultation lately with Colonel Roosevelt.

A HUGHES POLITICAL MOVE IN NEW YORK HAS BEEN ORGANIZED

New York, June 12.—The first organized political move in the furtherance of the campaign for the election of Charles E. Hughes, was announced upon the arrival of the Republican candidate here from Washington. It was the revival of the Hughes alliance, an organization of Hughes' Republicans, Democrats and independent voters who came into existence during the second campaign of Mr. Hughes for governor of New York, in 1908. The announcement was made by Travis H. Whitney, public service commissioner, one of the first to meet Mr. Hughes on his arrival on the morning train.

Mr. Whitney accompanied the presidential candidate to the Hotel Astor, where Mr. Hughes established his headquarters. He said that the same men who were identified with the Hughes' alliance had decided to get together to work in New York state for the election of the candidate probably under the Hughes non-partisan league. The organization he said would establish headquarters here and co-operate with the regular operating organization.

This organization will provide Mr. Hughes with personal headquarters for his visits to New York.

"I have nothing to say on politics at this time," said Mr. Hughes greeting newspaper men who met him on the ferry boat which brought him over the Hudson. This was in response to a question as to whether he would see Colonel Roosevelt during his stay here.

"I have come here primarily to make my plans for the summer," continued the presidential candidate. "New York, by the way, is where I belong and I am glad to get back here."

Mr. Hughes admitted there were certain important matters to discuss but efforts by the newspaper men to learn at this time what his specific plans were proved futile.

His presence on the train that brought him from Washington was unknown to all but a few of his fellow passengers. When he left the train he attracted no attention, but aboard the ferry was recognized by commuters to the city from their Jersey homes. They made no demonstration however. Appointments had been made with Republican leaders for this forenoon according to his secretary. He said also that it was as yet undecided whether Mr. Hughes would receive here or in Washington the convention committee which is to formally notify him of his nomination. Mr. Hughes went directly to his hotel and after ordering copies of all the morning newspapers retired to his rooms.

Bull Moose May Join The Democrats; Allege Betrayal

St. Louis, June 12.—The phase of the political situation now existing which interests Democratic leaders most, from National Chairman William McCombs down to the district leaders who are here to get pointers on big league politics is the possibility of desertion of leaders from the Progressive cause to the Democratic.

Such union defections and Democratic accessions might compensate for the loss which the threatened extinction of the paper Progressive party will entail even though not as important as the third party candidacy of Colonel Roosevelt would be. In advance of the convention the betrayal of the Progressives to the Republicans seems to be the point most emphasized by the leaders.

As shrewd a political general as Senator Thomas Taggart made it the dominant feature of the interview which he gave out on his arrival here with the new National Committeeman from his state, E. G. Hoffman, of Ft. Wayne, and an advance guard of supporters. "Mr. Fairbanks should have been nominated for President," he said.

"There was every reason for the ticket of Fairbanks and Hughes and none for the combination made up. In all politics there has never been a more shameful betrayal of a cause or a more glaring example of the double-cross in politics. The Progressives were led into a trap. Had Roosevelt been sincere he would have proposed a harmony candidate Thursday or Friday morning and not when Hughes's nomination was assured."

PLATFORM OF DEMOCRATS IS TENTATIVELY DRAWN

St. Louis, June 12.—Senator William J. Stone, who will be chairman of the resolutions committee, which will draft the Democratic platform, arrived here last night with drafts of a number of planks, some of which have been prepared by President Wilson himself. Mr. Stone laid the drafts before Chairman McClellan of the National committee, and held other conferences with party leaders, who will be assisted in the final preparation of the declaration of principles as it comes before the Democratic convention.

All the planks as they now stand are subject, of course, to the action of the resolution bill. Certain of them, which express especially the sentiments of President Wilson, are sure to be incorporated practically as they were brought by Senator Stone.

Foreign Relations

Pointing out the unprecedented world conditions brought about by the war, it will be contended that President Wilson, while keeping the United States at peace, has maintained a neutrality both "strict" and "honest." The diplomatic achievements of the President is prearranging upon Germany to pledge herself to cease submarine warfare methods in violation of international law will be pointed out as one of the potent reasons why the Democratic administration should be continued in power.

Mexican

The Mexican situation presented frankly and fully from the viewpoint of the administration will be recited with claims of justification or the administration's course as best shaped to conserve peace with the neighboring republic. The course of the administration will be held to be one in aid of a distracted and distressed people torn by internal strife in the progress of their own destiny. The United States, as the best friend of Mexico, it will be contended, has been acting entirely disinterested in Mexico's aid and with full respect and consideration for her sovereignty.

Preparedness

This will be treated under two separate heads, one dealing with what already has been accomplished and the other with that which is in the making. It will be pointed out that the party has met new world conditions demanding preparedness for national defense, by pointing to the advanced stage of preparedness of the navy, both in ships and men; legislation already enacted for the enlargement of the navy academy; and administration plans for rapid and balanced enlargement of the nation's forces for defense at sea. It will be contended that more probably will be done during three years of Democratic administration than had been accomplished for any previous years under Republican rule.

The enlargement of the regular army and the reorganization of the national guard with provisions bringing it more thoroughly under federal control will be cited among the measures of achievements for national defense already accomplished.

Financial

The federal reserve act, reorganizing the currency system of the country to a basis calculated to provide for the expansion and contraction of currency to meet the fluctuating courses of trade and to bulwark the financial structure of the nation against times of panic, will be pointed out as one of the foremost achievements of the party and an act which the Republicans unsuccessfully dealt with for many years. Pending legislation for a system of rural credits will be cited, also in that connection.

Tariff

The reduction of tariff duties on a scale which the Democratic platform makers contend would be a normal income for the support of the government in normal times will be pointed out as a party achievement. The enactment of an income tax will be presented as one of the party measures to bring income to the support of the government while dividing the burden according to the ability of the individual to bear it; the creation of a tariff commission for scientific study and readjustment of duties to protect American industry against the flood of European products after the fighting millions turn to the pursuits of peace; the shipping bill now pending to create an American merchant marine to relieve the commerce of the country from the lack of transportation and still making provision to withdraw government operation from competition with private capital when the latter is ready to undertake the enterprise is also presented as reasons for continuing the party in power.

The platform will contend that legislation at home and diplomatic dealings abroad have lent a strong stimulus to American foreign trade and that as a result industrial prosperity has greatly been enhanced and foreign trade rests on greater basis than ever before. The platform will charge that the Republican platform is little more than an attack upon Democratic achievements; offering no conservative policy to take the place of the measures assailed.

Edward Russell Head Of The R. F. D. Carriers

The Scioto county branch of the R. F. D. carriers met Saturday evening in the swing room of the post office to transact routine business and elect officers for the ensuing year. Edward Russell of Lucasville, was elected president; C. E. Moritz of this city, vice president, and Jesse C. McKinley of Lucasville, secretary-treasurer. C. W. Reinisch, of Wheelersburg, was chosen delegate to the state meeting which will be held at Springfield, July 25, 26 and 27.

Provision was also made for a meeting and basket picnic at Druggan's Grove, Lucasville, at 12 o'clock noon, Sunday, Aug. 6th, to receive report of delegate. A good social program will also be rendered. All the carriers, substitutes and their families invited to be there.

Officers Are Selected By Unity Sunday School

Unity Sunday school of Clay township was reorganized Sunday by electing the following officers: C. W. Reinisch, superintendent; Byron Webb, assistant superintendent; Zella Crabtree, secretary; Louella Arthur, treasurer; Mrs. Fitzer, librarian; Mae Trisler, organist; Mr. N. Crabtree, teacher of adult class; Mrs. J. Sohner, teacher intermediate class; Mrs. O. Trisler, teacher junior class; Mrs. Ira Gose, teacher of primary class. Mrs. J. Sohner and Mrs. Ira Gose were appointed delegates to the county Sunday school convention June 16th, also five boys and five girls were certified to the boys and girls' congress of the convention, to be held at 9:30 a. m., June 16th, at the Presbyterian church. The attendance was good and enthusiasm ran high.

WATCH ACID MOUTHS
Acid in the mouth is dangerous. It promotes decay of teeth. It may lead to pyorrhea and it causes ill health in many ways.
There is a sure, safe way to correct, cleanse and purify acid mouths. Nothing is superior to hyclorite, the remarkably effective antiseptic obtained at any drug store. It at once removes disease germs and stops decay. It cleanses, heals and purifies. It has no disagreeable taste and leaves the mouth clean and free from bad breath odors and removes acid.
Get a bottle of hyclorite, for it is economical and can be used for many purposes in the home.

Girl Alleges She Was Beaten At Street Fair, Other Police News

Owing to the absence from the city of Mayor Kaps, who is in Elmira, N. Y., on an inspection visit, most persons arrested since Saturday afternoon have been ordered to appear for hearing Thursday evening.

The list includes Richard Sally and Ollie Carrington, who had a fight on Eighth street, above Campbell avenue. Sally is said to have struck Carrington with a beer bottle, gashing his face. Others ordered to appear are: "Skip" Engelbrecht, a West End young man, and Miss Mary Buckles, of Sixth street. Engelbrecht was charged with drunkenness and disorderly conduct. The girl claimed that he had "bumped" into her at the street fair grounds Saturday night. She slapped him and he retaliated by beating her, she says, until others interfered.

A man giving the name of Thomas McNamara who abused Officers Dunham and Osborn when they ordered him off Chillicothe street because of his condition was charged with drunkenness and disorderly conduct. A companion giving the name of Fred Boss was also arrested for interfering with the officers. "Peggy" Davis was arrested for breaking a window at Vie Penman's restaurant on Eleventh street while in a "mixup" with Sam Wooden, an employee of the Busy Bee restaurant.

Simon Timberlake was the name given by an aged Kentuckian whom the police found down and out. He had several little chicks in his coat pockets. He claimed to be the father of eight children and Chief Clark released him later with the advice to at once go home to his family. Harve McGlothlin was arrested for kicking in a door at 716 Eleventh street. A man giving the name of J. M. Buckler was found drunk at Fifth and Union streets. A disorderly charge was also placed against him for resisting Sergeant Jack Leeds. A sign painter giving the name of George Thomas was found "down and out" at Eighth and Chillicothe streets.

W. W. Allen, a railroad man, was arrested by Officer Shouk-wiler on a disorderly charge. Allen was taken into custody upon complaint of his wife who operated a restaurant on Chillicothe street near Eighth. She accused him of unmercifully beating their sixteen months old child. She said he had done the same thing two weeks ago and that Humane Officer Harry Ball had visited their home in answer to a complaint. Chief Clark assured her Monday morning that he would ask Humane Officer Ball to again make an investigation.

John Harvey was locked up by Detective Andy Leslie on suspicion of being mixed up in the brass stealing at the N. & W. Terrains Saturday but he proved to the wrong man and was later released. Robert N. Holmes, the young naval deserter, who surrendered himself to the local police, was taken to Norfolk, Va., by Sergeant Leeds Sunday. In Leeds' absence Officer Grant Goings was in charge of the desk at police headquarters Sunday night.

Bill Osborn complained to the police early Monday that boys in a habit of rocking his home at 205 Front street had broken a window sill Sunday night. He said he would get revenge if the police did not act promptly.

Carnival Company Has To Pay For Monkey's Attack On Boy

A vicious monkey with the Metropolitan Street Carnival cost the management of the organization $100 and the costs of prosecution Saturday evening. Harry Kates, through his father, Kiley Kates, local court bailiff, filed suit in Squire A. J. Finney's court late Saturday, against John and Richard Doe, managers of the carnival, for $900 damages, alleged sustained when a vicious monkey, which was chained to a trunk, attacked the boy.

About eight o'clock Saturday evening, Attorney George W. Sheppard and Constable Walter Finney went to the street fair grounds and served an attachment upon the management for the damages claimed.

Shortly after arriving home, Attorney Sheppard says he was called and asked if he would negotiate for a certain amount. The amount named was not satisfactory, and the matter was closed. Another offer was made, but was not accepted.

The manager expressed surprise at the action taken and informed the constable that the monkey which attacked the boy did not belong to him and the action would be useless.

Attorney Sheppard told the manager that he was in charge of an amusement which catered to the public and that whether a vicious animal could be maintained on the ground would have to be determined in court. So Constable Finney deputized Preston Sheppard to see that the carnival equipment was not moved, and Attorney Sheppard went to his home.

Finally, at eleven o'clock, a compromise was effected. The carnival company paid Mr. Sheppard $100 to settle his client's claims and the cost of the prosecution. The company left Sunday afternoon on a special train for Chillicothe, where they will give an exhibition.

Judge Disposes Quickly Of Juvenile Delinquency Cases

A quick disposition of the cases of Emory Harr, Clarence Evans, Elmer Wynne, Marjorie Austin, Maggie Hill and Hattie Ewing, charged with delinquency, was made by Judge Thomas C. Bentley, probate court, Monday. The three boys were charged with having illicit relations with the three colored girls.

Elmer Wynne was sentenced to the Mansfield Reformatory; Emory Harr and Clarence Evans were fined $50 and costs and the three girls were placed under suspended sentences to the Delaware Home for Girls.

For several weeks the escapades of the youthful offenders troubled the juvenile authorities. Finally the officials learned the identity of the boys and girls and arrests followed.

WALL STREET IS SHOWING ADVANCES

New York, June 12.—Wall Street indicated its attitude toward the nomination of Justice Hughes and Colonel Roosevelt's conditional declination with a series of substantial advances at the opening of the stock market today. United States Steel and leading railway shares, as well as numerous specialties were higher by one to two points, with a gain of five for New York Airbrake. Trading was active and commission houses seemed to be prominent in the buying, suggesting out of town demand for stocks. The rise was also assisted by considerable short covering.

WHAT YOUR NERVES NEED
Whatever medication, whatever rest, whatever strength and vigor can be imparted to the nerves must reach them through the blood. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are a nerve tonic but they act on the nerves through the blood, enabling the blood to carry to the nerves the elements needed to build them up. Nourish, electric, sick headache and a number of more severe nervous troubles are properly treated by building up the blood with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, the non-alcoholic tonic.
If you are nervous you can help yourself by refusing to worry, by taking proper rest, sleep and vacations, by avoiding excesses and by taking out-of-door exercise. For medicine take Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, the non-alcoholic tonic.

SUNDAY SCHOOL ATTENDANCE

There was a decrease of 330 in the Bible school attendance Sunday. Children's Day exercises held up the attendance at Trinity and Second Presbyterian churches. Trinity maintained the lead, being the only school over the 1,000 mark. Only four had over 500 in attendance. The total was 5,888, the first time it has been below the 6,000 mark in several weeks. A large decrease was noted in the adult departments. Sunday's record:

"Iron Man" Ferguson Gave Boosters 1 Run In 18 Innings

Huntington Twice Beaten Sunday Before Fine Crowd; Scores 10-1 And 1 To 0

HURLING masterly ball through eighteen long innings and never once faltering, "Iron Man" John Ferguson, Sunday, before 1,800 Huntington fans, threw the hooks into the Boosters, winning both games 10-1 and 1 to 0. But for a little slip up in the field Ferguson would have splashed white wash all over the city of Huntington as well as Ezra Midkiff's champion chasers. No better exhibition of pitching has ever been displayed in this league than the brand uncoiled by Ferguson Sunday.

Time after time he put the visitors down in order and when a hit would have meant a run he was as tight as the log boy you usually see that blows in from the sticks and pulls out a "long black pocketbook" to fish out a nickel from it. Ferguson's work was smooth, skillful and spectacular.

He was opposed in the curtain raiser by Oscar DeLottelle, winning pitcher of the Boosters, but it wasn't Dee's day to shine and he was soon driven from the slab. King, a sidewheeler, succeeded him and fared better. In the second game Ferguson and Lawrence staged a genuine pitcher's duel. Each club garnered six hits, but Huntington's were as far apart as their skyscrapers while Portsmouth's blows produced the only and deciding runlet.

FIRST GAME
Fans were just pouring into the ball yard when DeLottelle found the plate swinging around on him. He walked Bush for a starter and Bauer put him down with a sacrifice. Dills also drew a pass on four wide ones. McHenry then inserted his four base wallop, Bush and Dills racing in ahead of him. That was more than enough to win. Dillhoefer and Spencer perished on infield tags.

Portsmouth raised its count to eight in the fourth and drove DeLottelle from the mound. Demos walked. Jacobus then sent one over the fence and two more runs were across. Bush singled to center and Bauer, to right, Bush racing to third. Dills singled scoring Bush. McHenry's triple to the fence emptied Bauer and Dills, and DeLottelle had enough. Dills was thrown out by Ollom, Ferguson died the same way and Spencer sent a grounder to Gibson. Demos scored the ninth run in the fifth when he singled, Jacobus followed with another. Demos stole third and scored on McDaniel's error. Dills tried to reach Jacobus stealing. Dills scored the last run in the sixth when he walked after two were down, unopposed and scored when King made a bad throw to first.

Huntington's lone tally during the entire afternoon came in the seventh inning of the first game. Dillst stopped one with his uniform and nailed. An out put him on second from where he scored on Gibson's two sacch to left.

SECOND GAME
There was really only one inning to the second game, the fifth, when Dillhoefer opened it with a single, stole second and took third on McHenry's throw to second. Demos won the argument by clipping one through the infield. In

"Aw, let's start the second half, Portsmouth's got this one sewed up," a Huntington fan babbled in the eighth inning of the first game yesterday. And he is not very far off at that.

Manager Midkiff played the ball yesterday, but he failed to hit with men on. He fielded sensationally and kept his players on their toes all the way.

Ferguson had Keller's number and he drove the ball from the underworks.

The champs are easily quartered at the Fredrick hotel. The team is traveling in big league style this season.

The crowd at Huntington Sunday was by far the largest the champs have lapped this season. So many people crowded into the big grandstand that ladies had to go into the bleachers before the second game started. President Gableman beamed expansively as he walked up and down in front of the stand and surveyed the fan populace. Looks like Huntington is in for its best baseball year.

After catching beautiful ball Catcher McDaniels virtually lost the second game.

Dillhoefer opened the fifth with a slashing single to right. With the hit and run on Spencer failed to swing at a low one and McDaniels, off his stride, had no chance to nip the flying Dilly, but he pugged to second off his balance and the ball shot by third. Spencer then popped out, but Demos snatched one through the drawn-in infield and the only score of the second game was chalked up.

Bush Had Wonderful Day

Little Joe Bush performed in a spectacular manner "around the keystone sack yesterday. His fielding frequently earned the plaudits of the most rabid Huntington fans. Bush accepted 17 chances in the double bill and without a semblance of a slip-up. Time after time he skinned over to the second sack, dug up a near hit and got his man. In Spencerland. His wonderful work aided was a scintillating feature of yesterday's victories. And at the bat he secured three hits.

INTENTIONS WERE GOOD, BUT

Waving his hat above his head and with a smile on his tobacco stained lips, Manager Midkiff just before he went to the plate in the eighth frame of the second game said: "Well, I guess I will have to lift one over the fence. We can't make a run any other way." And with a 3 and 2 combination he sent a bounder to Bush and took a drink of tea water. Ferguson left his home run ball in his grip at the Fredrick hotel.

TOWN'S YOURS CHAMPS

STOUT HEARTED FAN BET ON LOCALS

It is positively refreshing to watch the Champs perform on foreign soil. Their aggressiveness, their alertness and their never-say-die spirit has already won them a flock of admirers in Huntington. Bauer, Dills, Demos, Spencer, Dilly and the whole capoodle performed like world's champions yesterday. Portsmouth fans may well feel proud of their 1916 team and its capable and resourceful leader, Mr. Chester Spencer, the "ten out of the dirt, Ches. if you will.

"Why I bet $20 to $10 that Portsmouth would win both games," the fan replied. "Now, but you had your nerve," a scribe chimed in from one of the remote corners of said elevator.

"Nerve? Why, that's not nerve. I saw Portsmouth beat Lexington four straight earlier in the season and your club has got it on the Huntington bunch forty ways."

When the elevator reached the fifth floor the players had to file out one at a time so protruding were their chests.

At Frankfort the Old Taylors and Maysville halved a double header, each team winning by a 5 to 1 score. Monro and Shipner pitched for the winners and Shepard and Voll the losers.

OTHER GAMES

The strong Fullerton team, which has won 18 games in a row, defeated the Savies in Straus park Sunday afternoon 6 to 4. The team is claiming the championship of Schuyl county, Ohio and Greenup county, Kentucky.

The Nonpareils lost to the Yankees on the Sixth Street diamond Sunday afternoon by a score of 10 to 6. Kenward and James worked for the Yankees. The offerings of pitchers Henry House and Kuhn were skinned to all corners of the yard. Dubois caught for the losers.

Fans Like Ferguson Gave Wonderful Exhibit Of His Hurling

Harkon to the old days of Old Joe McGinnity, famed for pitching a pair of games in one afternoon.

John Ferguson, Clarksville, Tenn., Ind., turned the trick in Huntington Sunday and would have scored a double shut-out had not McHenry misjudged a liner into a two bagger in left field. Ferguson's box work yesterday was nothing short of marvelous. Using a world of the old zip stuff, his curves broke ing mystifyingly and with a change of pace that at times was almost uncanny, he held the enemy safe at all angles. As the second game progressed he seemed to grow stronger. Not once did he let up and his work yesterday will go down in State league history as one of the best exhibitions of pitching ever witnessed in the Carr circuit.

When the Huntington fans learned that Ferguson was to be sent in the second game a wave of groans engulfed the big stand. The fans knew full well what nine more innings of Ferguson meant and they were not disappointed. "Ferg" came through in big league style. Just by way of diversion he got McDonald and Stewart in on strikes in the ninth inning of the second battle, his speed being terrific.

Not His Day

Mr. Oscar DeLottelle, tall and angular, was in yesterday's first battle just 3 and 2-3 innings.

Here is what transpired during that brief period:

Portsmouth scored 5 large and sweet smelling runs. McHenry and Jacobus lined out homers and McHenry a triple. Mr. DeLottelle made a wild pitch, failed to strike out a man and gave five passes. It was not his day.

A PRETTY SCENE IN THE NEW TRIANGLE-FINE ARTS PLAY, "MARTHA'S VINDICATION."

Don't Miss This At The Columbia Tonight

Seldom has the Triangle pro-mudge wears several expensive duces a better "dressed" play but simple costumes required by than "Martha's Vindication," its her part, and Miss Owen reveals a newest Fine Arts release, feature-wardrobe in this one play that ing Norma Talhadge, Seena Owen contains at least fifteen different and Tully Marshall. Miss Tal-changes of costume.

Marguerite Clark at Lyric To-morrow in "Molly Make Believe."

It is very easy for those who have seen Marguerite Clark on the screen in her previous Famous Players productions to imagine her teasing her indulgent grandmother, ordering her small brother around the house, keeping a whole family agog by her impudent refusal to stay home, finally running away from home with her diminutive brother, and commanding a freight train in order to reach the city where she intends to search for a position.

These are some of the things which she does in the Famous Players-Paramount adaptation of Eleanor Hallowell Abbott's celebrated story and book, "Molly Make Believe," in which she is to star at the Lyric tomorrow.

"Molly Make Believe" created a sensation when it first appeared in one of the big national magazines and has ever since been one of the most popular girl-books at all times of the year. Those who have read the story will appreciate at once that Marguerite Clark is ideally suited to play the role of the delightful little Molly.

Inasmuch as the original story was woven entirely around a series of letters, it may be well to explain that the film, though still retaining the spirit of the book in its entirety, has so constructed the tale and introduced the comic and dramatic events in the life of Molly which preceded the action of the story, as to make an ideal film vehicle for Miss Clark.

"The Love Mask," Paramount Feature at Lyric Tonight

Wallace Reid, popular screen hero and beautiful Cleo Ridgely will be seen at the Lyric tonight in the Jesse L. Lasky production of "The Love Mask," a thrilling drama of the early days of California, a romantic story of love and adventure, written especially for them by Cecil B. DeMille, director general of the Lasky company, and Jeanie MacPherson, noted dramatist. Having recently scored a great triumph as a gentleman adventurer in "To Have and To Hold," Mr. Reid is seen as a blacksmith and a sheriff in a western town, who is torn between love for his sweetheart who has been arrested as a notorious bandit, and his duty to his fellow citizens. The two stars are surrounded by an all star cast and the production is wonderful in its excellence. Shows start at 6:45, 8 and 9:30.

At The Exhibit

"The Living Dead" is the title of chapter 10 of "The Iron Claw." A clever scheme is planned by which a wax masque of Davy is fastened on a dummy and placed in the Golden vault after a fake funeral service has been conducted. The laughing mask plays a large part in this episode in which Legar about to be captured in the vault uses a quick explosive, which shatters the vault. The question left with the spectator is, "Did Davy survive the explosion?"

"Deep Dyed Dubs" is a Starlight comedy featuring Heinie and Louie.

"Col. Heeza Liar" is a comedy.

Arcana Theatre

"The Gambler" is a two part Laemule drama written along the Enoch Arden theme, by Lynn Reynolds, featuring Myrtle Gonzales, Fred Church and Val Paul. The girl marries the young gambler, who deserts her and is supposed to be dead. Later he returns to find the girl being married to his brother; he then drowns himself. The settings and presentation are very good and the offering an appealing one.

"Oh, What A Whopper" is a thrilling and side splitting baseball picture that every one will enjoy. "The Toyland Villain" is a splendid Powers production with stars taking care of the leading roles. A strong Monday program. Be sure and see it.

At The Temple

"Arrows of Hate" is the title of chapter nine of "The Iron Claw." Legar tries to incriminate the Laughing Mask by placing in the hands of persons murdered presumably through his influence notes purported to be written by the Laughing Mask. The arrows of hate are arrows charged, with poison with which a Japanese servant of Legar's tries to do away with Davy and Margery, who is kidnapped.

"The Fallen Standard" is a drama and "Amateur Night" is a good comedy.

At The Forrest

"The Burglar's Picnic" is a three part Thanhouser subject with a pleasing juvenile interest. The Fairbanks twins are featured. They and their school girl chums go into the woods for a midnight picnic. The old professor follows, loses his glasses and gets into a deserted house where two burglars are making headquarters. The girls appear and the burglars are captured. The later scenes, on the wrecked train, contain more action and the close is satisfying. The pleasing results obtained by a natural development of the story. The twins are very attractive in this.

"Some Night" is a Beauty comedy.

At The Strand

Chapter 13 of the "Graft" series is tonight's big feature. More thrilling than ever.

"The Doctor of the Afternoon Army," Imp, is a two reel number, featuring Sydel Dowling, Sidney Bracey, Edith Roberts, Sam Drane and others. This is a Western subject.

"Some Honeymoon," is a Nestor comedy, featuring Billie Rhodes, Lee Moran and others. The bride and groom make a bet they can disappear so successfully their friends cannot find them. They become employed as bell boy and maid in a hotel and have some funny experiences.

"The Toll of the Angelus" is a Rex drama.

FERGUSON'S RECORD

And before we forget it Mr. John Ferguson, who pitched two or no count yesterday has won 9 games and lost 1.

And the game he lost over in Frankfort has been protested because Umpire Ben Franklin permitted the old Taylor batsman to flip the gate from behind the pitcher's box. Honest to goodness he did. Manager Spencer protested the game on this ground.

Here Is A New Variety

"Oh for heaven's sake why doesn't he run, the boob. He could get to first base before the fielder way out yonder could throw the ball to first base" chimed a white-gloved "catch" yesterday when Distel sent a scorching right into Jacobus' paws. You, it takes all kinds of bugs to keep the turnstiles clicking merrily.

Jacobs Is Real Umpire

And right now let us rise to remark that Umpire Jacobs is all to the merrily as an arbiter. He was over every play and there was not the slightest kind of a kick. He gave both pitchers the corners and kept the players hustling through the eighteen innings.

We Believe the Maxwell is Greatest Motor Car Value on the Market

BUT our opinion would not be of any particular importance to you if it did not coincide with the facts. We only want you to look the market over carefully. Then we absolutely know that you will agree with us.

In the first place there is the remarkable Maxwell engine. No four cylinder motor of its size has more "pep" or go to it regardless of the price of the car it drives. It will climb hills on high gear in a manner that will astonish you. It is quiet and works day in and day out with a sound, business-like hum that is good to hear.

Any engineer will compliment the design of the chassis. And those who are not engineers cannot fail to note its simplicity and staunch construction. As for what it is made of, we can truthfully say that better material cannot be bought.

The operation of the car is simplicity itself—the brakes are powerful—the springs are long and flexible—the axles are strong and the steering apparatus, like the rest of the chassis, is built to stand the most severe service the car may ever have to face, wherever or however it is used.

Then if you consider looks important, and most people do, you will not find a more attractive car than the Maxwell at anywhere near the price.

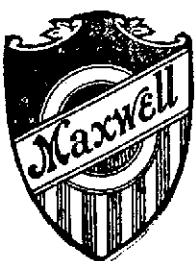

And it comes to you fully equipped with all the attachments you will ever want or need; electric starter and lights, demountable rims, one man top, self-ventilating, rain-vision windshield, etc. All for $655 (five passenger touring car) or $635 (two passenger roadster).

We know you can't beat it.

land, in the Palace of Peace, a building contributed for the purpose by a gentleman who does not like his name mentioned in connection with his gift.

Dear Miss Wise—Please print a way in your column to clean a rain coat and oblige.

A READER

A method which I believe has never been published was sent to this department a few days ago. The writer said to sponge the raincoat with a mixture of alcohol and ether to which a tablespoon of ammonia to a pint of liquid had been added.

Miss Dolly—Our cellar is just full of big fat saucy snails and I would like to know what makes them so fat. They can eat more potatoes than a man and yet they do not seem to have any teeth or tongue. Have they?

LITTLE WILLIE

The snail has a long tongue which is coiled, so that it uses only a part at one time. The tongue is covered with tiny teeth.

Dear Miss Dolly—Will you kindly tell me the meaning of the word "co-ed." I hear so much about co-ed schools, but don't know what they are like.

SCHOOL GIRL

"Co-ed" is an abbreviation of co-educational. It is commonly applied to institutions in which pupils of both sexes are educated. The number of these is increasing rapidly in the United States, and, with characteristic economy of time and breath, we cut the long compound word short.

Dear Miss Dolly—I want you to settle an argument for me. I say it is bad for or shows ill breeding to put crackers in soup. I think they should be eaten from the hand and my friend insists that it is perfectly all right to break them up and put them in one's soup. An early reply will be appreciated.

MISS ETIQUETTE

It is considered bad form to crush bread or crackers in soup, making a sort of a paste or porridge objectionable to fastidious beholders, whose stomachs are not proof against the exhibition. There are, however, tidbits and croutons, served with soup which are relished by all eaters. They are crisp and must not be pounded into a mess resembling chicken feed before they are eaten. Croutons and tidbits are strewn upon the surface of the soup, and eaten while crisp, not mixed with the liquid. A safe general rule is to avoid mixing foods upon one's plate.

SOCIETY

Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Fairtrace entertained at dinner Sunday evening in honor of the eighteenth birthday anniversary of Miss Mary Fairtrace. In serving the delicious four course repast the hostess was assisted by Miss Virginia Fairtrace. Covers were laid at the beautifully appointed table for Misses Helen Lee, Ruth Baker, Mary and Virginia Fairtrace, Messrs. Harold Elrod, Arthur Carey, Theodore Lilly, Paul Harsha, Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Fairtrace.

Mr. Stewart Smith, a steel worker of Cleveland, and Miss Ruby Wamsley, of Gullu street, were married Saturday evening at the home of Rev. J. W. Dillon, on Campbell avenue. The bride was attired in a handsome suit of midnight blue and wore a corsage bouquet of pink roses. The happy couple left Sunday for their new home in Cleveland.

The B. B. I. will meet Tuesday evening at the home of Miss Eloise Hicks.

Mr. C. E. Dowling and daughter, Miss Helen Dowling, left today for Pittsburgh, Pa., where Mr. Dowling will attend a meeting of the Credit Men's Association.

Friends in Portsmouth have received many cards announcing the birth of a baby daughter, "Fredericka Ann," to Mr. and Mrs. Harry C. Donnelly, at New Matamoras, Ohio. Mr. and Mrs. Donnelly recently moved from Court street, this city, to Wheeling, W. Va.

Mrs. W. G. Williams is in Huntington visiting among her relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. R. O. Eddy, of Offshore street, entertained at dinner Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Edward Bachman, Mr. and Mrs. F. R. Bachman and daughter, Mary Joanna.

The Hilltop W. C. T. U. will meet Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. Charles Russell, 1911 Eleventh street.

good breeding, it is said, and certain it is that no one who neglects her hands can expect them to look well. Only regular attention and steady care bring forth any results in beautifying the hands. The girl who works for her living need not despair, however, for if she will devote a few moments each night to her hands they will look almost as well as those of the lady at leisure.

Be careful, first of all, as to how the hands are washed. In tepid water is the most satisfactory, for it is not too cold to remove the dirt and not too hot to redden the flesh. Constantly changing soap is very bad for the skin. A good soap should be selected and be used regularly without change. Be sure that all the soap is off the hands, then dry thoroughly, so that the flesh is not left damp and moist. By going to a manicurist once in a while and by watching attentively how the work is done you may be able to do your own manicuring at home the rest of the time.

The Importance of Skin Care in the Springtime

Infectious skin diseases are irritating, unpleasant, unsightly and dangerous. There never was a greater mistake made than trying to cure such disorders with pomades, lotions, or creams, rubbed on the outside. You can't cure skin diseases that way, because they are the direct result of infected blood, and you can't rub or soak poisons out of the blood. The annoyances of skin troubles are worse in spring than any other time. The perspiration that starts with the first warm days intensifies the smarting, burning sensation, and makes the trouble almost unbearable. There is only one way to relieve them, and that is through the blood, which must be thoroughly cleaned and purified. There is only one remedy that you can rely upon to do this, and that is

S. S. S., the surest and best blood cleanser known. S. S. S. acts with sure effect directly upon the blood—taken internally, it goes right into the blood vessels, drives out every bit of poison of whatever nature, kills the germs that starve and impoverish the blood, restores the skin to its proper condition and gives you healthy bone and tissue building blood. Even the worst cases, such as eczema, and blood poisons, yield promptly to this efficient vegetable remedy. It doesn't matter how long you have had skin trouble, or if it has developed into chronic sores that you had given up all hope of curing. Take S. S. S. when all else fails. It brings relief. DESPONDENT WOMAN JUMPS INTO MILLBROOK LAKE

Separated From Husband, Tries To End Her Life

Quick action by several young men who luckily were by all that saved Mrs. Sarah Jane Parsons-Pendleton from a watery grave in the waters of Millbrook lake Sunday evening about seven o'clock, when the young woman leaped into the lake in an unsuccessful attempt to drown herself. The scene of the near-suicide was on the west bank of the lake spillway on the Sciotoville car line. The woman's screams as she tried to hold herself above the water on first coming to the surface brought many to the scene and by the time she had been finally brought to land nearly fifty had gathered on the bank to lend a helping hand and to get a glimpse of the near-victim.

It did not take long for the news to scatter over the little settlement of Lakeside, and the home of David Parker, where the young woman was taken, was thronged all evening with the curious.

Mrs. Pendleton is said to be the wife of George Pendleton, who is somewhere in West Virginia. She is twenty-three and the mother of two small boys, Homer and Johnny. The woman and her children and her niece, Miss Minnie McCleave, and the former's mother, Mrs. America Parsons, have light housekeeping rooms at the Mrs. Margaret A. Nash home, 435 Second street. The two children and the aged mother were not informed of the young woman's rash deed Sunday night for fear that the shock would be fatal.

Mrs. Pendleton and niece Miss McCleave, had been to the Parker home in the morning to view the corpse of a baby grandson of Mr. and Mrs. David Parker, and shortly after the noon hour they returned to Portsmouth. About seven o'clock they decided to attend the Pentecostal meeting being held in Lakeside, and also to visit Mr. and Mrs. Parker, the latter being a sister of Mrs. Pendleton. The two young women were walking along the car tracks towards Lakeside and just as they were opposite the old beech tree which stands on the west bank of the spillway, the woman tossed her hat aside and running to the edge of the water, plunged in. Her screams, as she leaped from the bank, and the cries of Miss McCleave, were heard by Hiram White, of New Boston, who was on his way to Lakeside, and who saw the woman as she leaped into the water. John Arwood, who was on the front porch of his home on the east bank of Lakeside, and Ned Polley and Lonnie Ward, of Lakeside, who were on their way to the park, also heard the cries and ran to the scene. By the time they reached the edge of the water Mrs. Pendleton was about twenty-five feet from shore and in about fifteen feet of water. Ward swam to her side and just as she was going down for the third time, caught her with one arm and started for shore. White and Arwood waded into the water and through their efforts the two were brought to safety, Ward being exhausted.

The woman was carried to her sister's home and Dr. Challis Dawson was summoned. The woman appeared dead, but after fifteen minutes hard work, she responded to the restoratives given by the physician. It was not until late Sunday night she talked and then gave no reason for the rash act. According to the physician she will get along nicely unless pneumonia develops.

Mrs. Pendleton has been married about six years and has had considerable family trouble. Her only sister, Mrs. David Parker, heard but little of her during her married life. She just recently left her husband and over a week ago met her niece in Hinton, W. Va., from which place they came to Portsmouth one week ago Sunday.

According to the niece, Mrs. Pendleton had complained of severe pain in her head, breast and side and all week she did not seem in her right mind, and talked of drowning herself and children. She recently recovered from typhoid fever. For the last two years she has been subject to these spells which are hereditary. Some advanced the theory that her mind was unbalanced by attending the Pentecostal meetings, but she had only been to two or three meetings. The sorrow brought by the death of her sister's grandchild, and her mental condition, are given as the causes for her attempt at suicide. Besides her mother and two sons the woman has two brothers in Rowan county, Ky.

PLENTY OF MUSIC FOR "SHOEMAKERS DAY"

With horns tooting, drums beating, flags waving, pennants flapping and folks yelling—well, friends, there is absolutely no question of the success of "Shoemakers' Day" at Millbrook Park next Saturday afternoon.

In fact the day promises to be the biggest event of its kind ever pulled off in minor league circles and that is taking in quite an amount of territory.

The shoe manufacturers have entered into the spirit of the occasion with such unanimity of purpose that those who fathered the proposition are sanguine fully 4,000 people will assemble at the park to witness the game between the Selby Shoe Co. team vs. the Excelsior and Irving Drew teams, also the spirited contest between the local team of the O. S. League and the "Old Taylors" of Frankfort.

One of the most joyfully received announcements ever made by the owners of the Portsmouth franchise in the O. S. L. was the one admitting all children under sixteen years of age free on "Shoemakers' Day." Any boy or girl in Portsmouth will not be required to give up a penny to witness the two games and they are privileged to pick out the best seats, too. All they have to do is to walk in and then yell. Bet those "Old Taylors" will imagine something has broken loose when these kids begin to root.

Another nice feature is that special tickets will be sold to all persons employed in shoe factories at 25 cents each, this admitting the holder to reserved seats. The fact that children will be admitted free, coupled with the fact that all shoeworkers will be charged only 25 cents, means that the honest shoeworker and his good wife can take the entire family for the price of one ticket. And make no mistake about it, the shoeworkers will be out in full force.

Word has reached the streets that the shoeworkers will recruit a brass band for the occasion, also that the River City Band, in order to show their appreciation for the liberality of Levi D. York in giving them a very liberal contract for playing concerts at the park this summer, will donate their services for the occasion. This means plenty of music and where there is an abundance of music there is bound to be plenty of life, liberty and enthusiasm.

The committee appointed from the Selby Shoe Co., the Excelsior Shoe Co. and the Irving Drew Shoe Co., will hold a meeting at the First National Bank building this (Monday evening) at 7:30 o'clock, at which time a regular program will be mapped out and a ticket campaign put on. One member of the committee, Theodore Branham, stated Monday, that he was sanguine fully 1,800 tickets would be sold among the Selby Shoe Co. employees alone.

And the same proportion will hold good at the Irving Drew and Excelsior Shoe Co.

In the meantime, make no engagements that will interfere with your attendance at Millbrook Park next Saturday afternoon. To see 4,000 people at the two games will be a sight worth witnessing. In fact it will establish a high water mark for professional base ball in this city. Portsmouth is used to doing big things and next Saturday she will demonstrate that fact. Bring out your fog horns, get together all your noise making devices and be at the park at 1:30 when festivities will begin.

For several years, the business men of that village have been planning to build a system that would give them an adequate supply of water. But no definite action was taken until the conflagration destroyed half of the town before the flames were checked.

The initial step toward securing a water works for the village of Lucasville has been taken by a committee composed of J. H. Brant, Thomas Hartman and Dr. J. N. Thomas. At the request of this committee, an engineer from the State Board of Health, Columbus, will come to Lucasville Wednesday morning to make a survey of the lands and an analysis of the water with a view of recommending a plan for a plant that will meet with the requirements of the statutes.

The accident took place at the Kountz building, formerly occupied by the Kountz saloon, two doors east of the town hall. Pitfalls had reached the top of a stairs and was going to visit several fellow foreigners. He became sick and stuck his head out of the window which is only about three feet from the top of the stairs and when he lost his balance he fell headfirst to the ground, a distance of 30 feet.

A physician was summoned and Lynn's ambulance was called. The physician wanted to take the man to the city police station but fellow foreigners promised to stand all expenses and he was removed to Hempstead hospital. He is about 35 years of age and has been in this country for some time. He formerly worked in the steel plant but of late has been employed as laborer with Kelley Bros., paving contractors. He is known among fellow workers as "peanut."

Lucasville To Get Waterworks, Reservoir Plan May Be Adopted

The village. Near the proposed site are three large springs, which will furnish the supply.

After the engineer makes his report, a stock company will be incorporated for $5,000 and the plant will be erected according to the present plans.

The plan the citizens of Lucasville have prepared for their water works is to establish a covered reservoir on the hill just east of

FALLS OUT OF WINDOW; INJURIES MAY BE FATAL

Leaning out of a second story window after drinking beer freely and other intoxicants during the evening will probably prove fatal to William Pitzas, foreigner. He fell out of a second story window at New Boston, Saturday night about ten o'clock and received injuries to his spine and internal organs that will likely prove fatal, according to the attending physician. The man is paralyzed from his shoulders down and is only able to move his fingers. He cannot talk coherently.

Machine Goes Over Embankment; Turns Over, No One Injured

Lem Odel, of 1201 Gay street, and his brother-in-law, Fred Thompson, of Rarden, had a narrow escape from serious injury Sunday afternoon about 4:30 o'clock when Odel's touring car went over a thirty-five foot embankment just this side of Rush town on the West Side. A big car crowded Odel's car to one side and he slid over the bank, the car turning completely over once and landing at the bottom of the bank on its wheels. The men were only slightly bruised. The wind shield of the machine was smashed and fender was bent. Odel hopped it onto the road and brought it home on its own power.

Girl Loses Pocketbook

Dorothy Manning, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Manning of Seventeenth street and Oakland avenue had the misfortune to lose her coin purse containing $5.67 Monday morning. Work Begun On Flood Wall

Active work on building an extension to the present city flood wall from Chillicothe to Offens street was commenced bright and early Monday morning, the S. Monroe & Son Company putting quite a force of the men on the job of excavating for the foundation.

"Green" Driver Sends Car Over Embankment

William McCarty, a stove molder, of No. 1217 Grandview avenue, ran his new automobile over an embankment and into a telephone pole and corn crib opposite the Herms floral farm on Scioto Trail Sunday afternoon.

Mr. McCarty's daughter, Mrs. Ida Tilton, was thrown from her seat when the car went over the bank and was slightly out about the face. The other occupants of the car, who were Mrs. P. E. Price, of High street, and young daughter, Jane Harriet, escaped with a shaking up. The radiator of the machine was damaged, but the party was soon able to proceed.

Serious Charges Are Made In Divorce Suit

Alleging that Samuel Romas was guilty of "indecencies too horrible to set forth in a petition," Laura Romas seeks a divorce and alimony in the local court of common pleas on the grounds of extreme cruelty and gross neglect. She was granted a temporary injunction by Judge Thomas, restraining her husband from disposing of his property and a restraining order prohibiting him from drawing his wages.

Careful Cincinnati People Now Treat Colds "Externally"

Take a Hot Bath—a Good Rub Down With Vick's Vap-O-Rub and Then Leave Your Bedroom Windows Wide Open for the Night. No Internal Dosing Will Be Needed.

After Applying Vick's Vap-O-Rub Over Throat and Chest, You Should Cover With a Warm Flannel Cloth. The Body Heat Vaporizes the Ingredients Which are Breathed In All Night Long.

In the old days people used to think that fresh air caused colds, and consumptives and pneumonia patients were shut up in air tight rooms, and, as a result, usually died. Nowadays, we know that for all forms of cold troubles, the more good fresh air we can get, the quicker is the recovery.

Cincinnati people have found the best treatment to be a good rub with Vick's Vap-O-Rub Salvo, covered with a warm flannel cloth, and then leave the windows wide open for the night. The body warmth releases the ingredients in the form of vapors that carry the medication, with each breath, through the air passages to the lungs. MRS. FLORA SENCAS, 523 Dandridge Street, reports: "I have used Vick's Vap-O-Rub for my daughter, and it just did so much good in using it just once, that now when the rest of the family get a cold, they say—Mother, please fix me up like you did sister."

MRS. FRED M. Also, my sister, who is subject to catarrh, gets better relief from your remedy than from any other she has tried."

Vick's Vap-O-Rub can be had in three sizes, 25c, 50c or $1.00, at all druggists.

AND THEREFORE JUNE

The varied and tumultuous weather offered during this month may be a trifle unusual for June, but it is not unnatural, so to speak. For June is named after June, wife of the heathen god, Jupiter, and we may suppose so named because of some resemblance to her. From all accounts she was a lady of much versatility of temper and accomplishments. Her lord and master got a trifle sweet on the lo, an altogether lovely demi-goddess. Thereupon June promptly changed to a heifer and put Argus, he of the hundred eyes, to guard her. Old man Jup strayed across the field shortly thereafter and recognizing lo in the heifer gave Mercury orders to slay Argus, which the latter did by chopping off Argus' head and sending his horror-stricken hundred eyes rolling all about. The grief-stricken June picked them up and grafted them on to the peacock's tail, and hence the highly ornate caudal appendage of that bird. Then further feeding her wrath she sent myriads of green flies to torment "that heifer" and sent her bellowing all over Greece for mercy. Finally, when she promised to be good June changed her back to human form and you may be sure she was good forever thereafter. Just as minor exercises for her temper she changed Callisto into a she-bear and kicked her lame son Vulcan out of heaven. That was the best thing she ever did, for Vulcan, no longer being able to sip the nectar of the gods, found it necessary to make a living for himself, became a blacksmith and introduced the arts of the forge to human beings.

YES, WE SOON FORGET

We carp because Mexico has so long suffered a bandit and murderer like Villa and we complain and carp because our own soldiers have not been able to run him down in a few short weeks. But we forget other experiences and long failure along the same line. Shortly after the civil war a band of Quantrell's guerrillas organized themselves into a band, known to a more or less dubious fame as the James Boys. For about fifteen years they robbed and sometimes killed in the Mississippi valley from Kentucky to Kansas and from Louisiana to Minnesota. In all that time scarce a one of them was caught up with by their pursuers and it was only that they got o'er reckless and pillaged in the treeless wastes of the latter state that quietus came to them as soon as it did.

Perhaps, if we would ponder upon this we would have a bit more justice for Mexico and greater patience for our own. Mexico is a thinly settled land with vast reaches of mountains and forests, furnishing in all but exceptional instances safe abiding place for the pursued. The one end of Villa is certain, but therein, slow, leaden-heel time. It must be suffered to move on its leaden heel before his fate of the greatest of all modern bandits is sealed.

JUST LIKE THE WEATHER

Charles J. Murphy, of New York, who attains his eighty-fourth year in June, has had a career much like the weather of the month so far. And he is much like it in another respect too. He has been of vast benefit to the agricultural interests. Not many people have heard of Charles J. Murphy. He was born abroad and in contradiction to his name, not in Ireland, but England, beginning his globe-trotting experience in his very infancy, when he was brought to this country in his mother's arms. In early manhood he joined in the gold rush to California and "struck it rich". But he gave to California a million dollars for every one he dug out of her golden soil. For years later, when he was finishing a tour of South America, he brought back with him from Brazil the naval orange and introduced its culture in that state. As soldier he fought in both the Mexican and Civil Wars, winning a commission in the latter for gallant service and a gold medal from congress because of a thrilling escape he led from a Confederate prison. In 1891 he organized the American relief commission, which sent ten ship loads of potatoes and corn to the starving Russians and was later brought by the Czar to teach his people the growing and using of corn. For philanthropic service he has been decorated by more than one foreign government.

At that we suppose that if an enlisting officer were to suddenly make his appearance in one of those preparedness parades and sound a clarion call for duty in the trenches down in Mexico he would be regarded as a butter-in and be in luck to escape with his life, while immediately afterwards there would be a sudden and large falling off in the numbers of the parade.

Brother Charlie's paper, the Times-Star, agrees enthusiastically and approvingly with Rudolph Hymanicka, that his selection as national committeeman is a compliment to the kind of Republicanism that rules in Cincinnati. Yes, and so do several hundred thousand other Republicans and that means a bigger shower of bricks in its direction, when the fellows get home and tell the messes what happened to the Burton presidential aspiration and who happened it. As far as the naked eye can reach out into the state there is no love for Cincinnati anyway.

Man wants but little here below and sometimes we think we should be fairly well satisfied with the general situation if only we really got the mileage per gallon of gasoline we say we do when conversing with the owner of some other kind of car.—Ohio State Journal.

THE WISDOM OF EXPERIENCE

EXPLANATION IS NEEDED

(Wauseon Expositor)

The Putnam County Sentinel last week in stating "A Few Fifth District Facts" said that Harmon, for Governor, carried the district in 1910, by 5,480, but that Cox, Hogan and Ansbury lost it in 1914. If these are facts then the next thing we want to find is the contributing cause. The question is not "How much did The Sentinel and Put Sandles, its editor, do FOR these candidates," but "How much did they do AGAINST each one of these candidates." Jealousy and sordid ambition of a number of political wire pullers and grab bag holders who want something falling their way all the time constrained them to work against these candidates. Thus with the religious propaganda, false reports, jealous and sorehead knockers within the Democratic ranks, a strong Republican organization with a barrel of money, in dry communities charging these men with being dry, under these circumstances we say what else could the results be?

The Sentinel is not handing out these facts for Harmon's benefit. It is primarily to boost Put Sandles for governor. The question for the Democrats to consider is, Do they want a leader who has contributed toward the defeat of a whole Democratic ticket?

Things may not be as exciting at St. Louis as they were last week at Chicago, but any way we hope the weather will be a bit kinder and that the sun will shine once in awhile.

The Woman's Federation of Clubs proposes to standardize the street costumes of all the sisters. All we have got to say on the subject is that only women would attempt such a thing.

Notwithstanding it is June the finding of "someone to beat Wilson," was about as jocund a task as hunting for a needle in a hay stack.

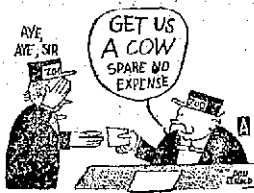

Burton's middle name is Elijah. The Cincinnati submarines, probably, didn't give a tinker for that when they exploded a torpedo at his boom from the inside and so couldn't miss.

All at once we realize that the resistless tide of time and events has carried us beyond a point we would never reach. In the speech of Temporary Chairman Harding, to the national Republican convention there was not a single word in reference to the reconstructed negro, or the unreconstructed south. And it took just an even half century for a partisan spell-binder to get to those omissions.

Billy Sunday will save Boston, New York, Chicago and St. Louis in the order named. And by the time he finishes with St. Louis, we fear the devil will have recaptured Boston, New York and Chicago.—Houston Post.

Everyday Wisdom

SHOW NEW YORK A COW
A letter to the Directors of the Central Park Zoo, New York, Dear Sirs—Everyday Wisdom has a suggestion. You may not care. You may not think it is any of our business.

We suggest that you buy and install a cow in the Central Park Zoo. There are millions of little children in New York who have never seen a cow. Perhaps not millions, but several dozen, at least.

They have seen lions, tigers, ant-eaters and other fauna of foreign forests, but they have never laid eyes on an American domestic barnyard or pasture cow. This is absurd.

All they know about cows is that milk comes in bottles, mysteriously, like Santa Claus and like little brothers and sisters.

We suggest a cow renaissance in New York. One time a cow came to Manhattan Island and laid off Broadway by walking crookedly and unsteadily from one end of the island to the other, and that "the last time a cow has been seen in New York City."

The Central Park Zoo ought to keep a cow. Show the children of New York some of the animals of America; they know enough about the animals of Europe. Have milk-ing days. Show the little ones the source of milk and roast beef medium. New York children don't know any more about cows than country people know about the origin of wall paper.

Bed Time Tales

The Magic Ears Again

One morning Gilt and Shine wandered into the far corner of the forest and there they found a great pile of rocks.

"No use wandering around among these rocks," said Shine. "We'll find nothing pretty here. What would grow in rocks?"

"Nothing would of course," replied Gilt. "But still it will do no harm to look. You remember we didn't think much of that green moss on the tree bark, and it turned out to be a most interesting plant with a long, high-sounding name—Protococcus—see, I can say it myself! I will never forget it."

"That's different," said Shine. "When we discovered Protococcus we could see it plainly. Only we knew nothing about it. But here among these rough rocks we can see nothing. Come on, Gilt, let's go over and play in the sunshine. For you must know, of all the faunas in the fairy kingdom, that was the forest. Gilt and Shine were the warmest friends of the sunbeams and always had a good romp with them in the morning."

"Very well, I'll come as soon as I look over this pile of rock right here," said Gilt, and he hastily scrambled up to the edge of rock and peered over.

"Shine! Shine! Come here and look!" he called as soon as he looked over the edge of the rock.

Shine knew by the way he spoke that he had seen something interesting, so he lost no time in climbing up the pile of rock after Gilt and leaning beside him over its edge. It's lucky they were fairies and could not fall, for they were so interested in what they saw that they forgot to be careful.

"Fermis!" exclaimed Shine. "A whole fern town!" added Gilt. "And aren't we glad we found it?" "Let's go down and talk to them," said Shine, and quick as a flash, the fairies scrambled down the other side of the rocks and stepped into the middle of fern town.

"Such a place to live!" cried Gilt. "I don't see why they chose to grow among rocks. Anybody can see that rocks are hard and stony. I'm going to ask about it." And without waiting a minute, he pulled out his magic ears so he could hear what the ferns might say.

"We like to live among the rocks," he heard Mother Fern saying. "Only stupid ferns try to grow anywhere else! We choose the rocks because they hold the moisture for us. We're a thirsty family, let me tell you, and the rocks know it. Many a drink can we get from their cracks and crevices when at any other place in the forest we would go thirsty! But you will have to excuse me," she continued, "for this is my busy day. I have a dozen brand new babies to look after. Come again and I'll tell you more."

Mother Fern went on about her business and Gilt and Shine had to wait till another time to hear more. To-morrow—Wing Wood-rat Spies Something

NEW-YORK-DAY-BY-DAY

O. O. MCINTYRE.

New York, June 12—Herbert Bayard Swope, city editor of the Morning World, was a star reporter before he was selected to guide the local staff of the great Pulitzer newspaper. Down on Park Row they tell a story on Mr. Swope when he was the cubbiest of cub reporters which shows that sometimes even a cub will reveal his claws.

It was the time of morning when the paper has gone to press and the staff sits around waiting to see if a "make over" is necessary before the complete run is off the press. A copy reader by pre-arrangement went down to the neighboring drug store and called up the city desk and the man answering the phone appeared to be widely excited.

"What's that?" he shouted. "Geel! That is a whale of a story." And then he hung up the receiver while every man present was apparently on his tiptoes ready to spurt. Over in the corner Mr. Swope tapping away at his typewriter suddenly stopped hoping for the Great Moment.

But the staff grew very secretive and all the orders were given in whispers and when Mr. Swope came near they would look at him strangely and keep very quiet. Of course he wondered what it was all about and had no idea they were just hazing him.

That night he went home very much discouraged but on his way he by mere accident stumbled onto a big murder story, called up his managing editor, got the facts, rushed back to the office and with the managing editor and a few printers, hurriedly called, got out an extra that beat the town.

This sounds like a skit from the burlesque stage but it actually happened in the Hotel Belmont. A man from Corning, N. Y. tried to shake hands with himself in a mirror at the end of a hallway and when he ran into the glass glared around angrily and shouted "Quit your shoving."

The dancing masters from all over the country who have been meeting in New York seem to have sounded the death knell for the "duck waddle" type of dances and even the placid two step is to be deodorized and de-natured.

In fact dancing is going back to the fundamentals of pure simplicity in New York and even the Chicago terpsichorean classic, "Walking the Dog" will go to the scrap heap. The shocking frank steps, it is announced, are to give way to those that cause no brain fog and the tired business man may now sleep in a ballroom so long as he keeps his toes half awake.

The old fashioned waltz, sterilized and rejuvenated, is to come whirling into its own. The chief idea of the convention was to standardize the dance so the girl from Portland, Oregon, could dance with the young slicker on Broadway without feeling she was out of date.

A new hooty-tooty cafe with just 12 little tables has opened up on Fifth Avenue. It is only open in the afternoon and has a small dancing floor and tea and light repasts are served. Once the tables are filled no others may enter and unless you are in the Social Register you cannot get in under any conditions.

It costs $2 for a seat at the table and a modest little luncheon for two would be about $6. The dancing privilege costs $1 each and high balls and cocktails and the like are also $1 each. To spend an hour or so in the place would knock a big hole in a $20 bill and probably leave you about enough to tip the hat check girl.

However, the proprietress evidently knows what she is doing for the little cafe is crowded each day and many are turned away. One breezy Westerner heard of the place and for a lark tried to get in. He was shoos away as if he had just broken out with the small-pox.

"Why isn't this Child's?" he asked. "I just want a cut of pie and a bowl of milk." It nearly broke the heart of the proprietress.

The Kind That You Are
It isn't the kind of a boy he will be, But the kind of a father you are; It is you that must help him to know and see; It is you that he knows as his star, And are you the kind that he loves or fears, The kind that he trembles before, With hatred and misery and suffering and tears— Well, don't be so any more!

It isn't the way that the boy will turn out, But the way that you help him to turn; It is you that must help him to sing and to shout, To dream and to hunger and yearn. Are you the kind that he comes to in joy, And likes to be with you, and feels That you are a man that's the friend of a boy, As close to your bosom he steals.

It isn't the kind of a man he will make, But the way that you lead him in life, In truth and in honor, for honor's own sake, With courage to face the brave strife. And are you the kind that he doesn't come near Because you're so gruff in your grime, And you bid him run off, with lips curled in a sneer— Well, don't be that way the next time!

DEMOCRATS ARE OFF FOR THEIR CONVENTION

Roosevelt Declines To Head The Progressive Ticket

DEMOCRATS TO NAME TICKET FRIDAY NIGHT; THE KEYNOTE ADDRESS SET FOR WEDNESDAY

St. Louis, Mo., June 12.—Preliminary to the opening of the Democratic National convention, the members of the national committee are here today to meet and pass upon the final arrangements of the convention, whose 1913 delegates are to name the party ticket. The committee also had before it five contests, three of which involve the seats of the national committeemen of the district of Columbia, Hawaii and Texas. Another contest involves the seat of a delegate from Hawaii and the fifth contest embraces a protest against the seating of the six delegates of the District of Columbia.

"We expect a short session of the committee," said Chairman McCombs. "The convention arrangements are all perfected and the contests before the committee should be speedily settled. We have made a change in our convention program. The first session will be held Wednesday, when the temporary chairman will make the keynote speech, and the committees will be appointed. The next day the convention will hear the speech of the permanent chairman and addresses of prominent Democrats."

"On Friday there will be a morning session, when the platform will be heard and adopted, and on Friday night we will name the ticket." National Chairman McCombs held a conference with Senator Wm. J. Stone, who will be the chairman of the resolution committee. Senator Stone brought with him from Washington certain drafts of more important planks that have been stretched in some detail by President Wilson and his advisers in congress and the cabinet.

The principal planks that await presentation to the platform committee are the foreign relations, the Mexican situation, preparedness and tariff. The foreign relation plank will set forth the unprecedented conditions that have arisen as a result of the war and it will be pointed out that while President Wilson has kept us from strife he has also maintained a neutrality both strict and honest.

The plank on the Mexican situation will develop that this question has been approached with the idea of keeping peace, not only with the Mexican republic, but to maintain peace within her own borders. On the question of preparedness the platform will assert that the party has met the demands of the world-wide situation by an advanced stage of preparation of the navy and the enlargement of the army and the re-organization of the national guard.

The tariff plank will point out that the reduction of tariff duties, so that the income from that source in normal times would meet the needs of the government, is an achievement of the Democratic party.

The national committeemen are awaiting an intimation from President Wilson as to whom he would prefer as the chairman of the committee to succeed Mr. McCombs, who has announced his retirement. "Committeemen here say that if President Wilson's choice lies with the committee membership, it probably will be Vice-Chairman Homer Cummings, of Connecticut. Mr. Cummings said that he was not a candidate for office, but if called upon would serve.

Early trains brought scores of delegates and visitors to St. Louis today, and National Chairman McCombs said there was every indication that large crowds would attend the convention.

"This is a remarkable tribute to President Wilson and the party," said Mr. McCombs, when one considers that the convention lacks the alluring nature of an exciting contest over the head of the ticket."

The convention hall is rapidly taking form and the national committee says it will be ready in ample time. St. Louis hung out bunting and flags in profusion today and decorations appeared everywhere in honor of the convention.

Mrs. Florence Updegraff, the suffragist leader of New York, believes that the Golden Lane, in which several thousand women dressed in white, with yellow sashes and carrying yellow parasols, will stand in silence on both sides of the main street through which the delegates will pass on their way to the convention, is going to be an effective argument. This silent plea of the "Golden Lane" Mrs. Updegraff says is to be in direct contrast with the women's campaign at other conventions where oratory was relied on to make up their points.

OPEN PROBE OF GASOLINE ADVANCES

Washington, June 12.—Inquiry into the advance in the price of gasoline was begun today by the federal trade commission with representatives of the principal producing concerns on hand to testify. Commissioner Harris presided today and appearing before the commission to explain their side of the case were representatives of the Standard Oil companies of New Jersey, New York and Ohio, the so-called independent refiners of Ohio, New York and Pennsylvania and the Western Oil Jobbers' Association. The commission was prepared to inquire, among other things, into the alleged failure of the Standard Oil companies to compete with one another and for reasons for wide price variations in various parts of the country.

AUTOS CLAIM HEAVY TOLL

Cleveland, O., June 12.—Two persons were dead and fifteen injured here today as a result of Sunday automobile accidents. Eight arrests were made for violations of traffic laws. The dead are Abraham Cohen, 18, a messenger-boy who died early today from injuries received when run down by an automobile, the driver of which is being sought by police. Mrs. Amelia Pohl, 27, was killed and her daughter Helen, 7, injured when run down by a machine, the driver of which, Adam Hermann, 31, gave himself up and is being held for manslaughter.

THE REPUBLICANS' CHOICE FOR VICE PRESIDENT

CHARLES W. FAIRBANKS © PACI N.Y.

HUGHES JUMPS INTO THE CAMPAIGN TO CONSULT LEADERS

Washington, D. C., June 12.—Charles E. Hughes, after six years spent in seclusion from politics, today jumped into his presidential campaign. Without awaiting formal notification that he had been chosen to lead the Republican national ticket, he arranged to go to New York today to confer with party leaders there.

Plans for the coming campaign and selection of a national committee chairman and questions to be emphasized in the official notification were to be discussed, it was said. It was expected that Mr. Hughes would meet former Attorney General George W. Wickersham, Frederick C. Tanner, chairman of the New York State Republican Committee, Frank H. Hitchcock, leader of the Hughes boom at Chicago, Governor Whitman and others. He has not announced his plans for returning.

He has been out of intimate touch with politics so long, however, he wants to get information and guidance from close friends in New York. The new presidential candidate was the object of much interest in Washington yesterday. Many persons drove past his residence in hope of getting a glimpse of the former justice and so many moving picture men swarmed about him on his way to church that the Hughes family was late to services.

New York, June 12.—Charles E. Hughes came here today for the first campaign conference. He arrived from Washington at 7:05 a. m. via the Baltimore and Ohio railroad and ferry to West Twenty-third street and went to the hotel where he will spend the day. He said he had nothing to tell just yet regarding his plans, but promised to see newspaper men later in the day. Although the police department had been notified of the Republican candidate's coming and had sent detectives to meet his train, his arrival here at such an early hour was generally unexpected. He was met at the ferry station by Public Service Commissioner Travis H. Whitney, and William I. Cox, a New York attorney, and former members of the public service commission. Mr. Hughes, secretary, Lawrence H. Green, accompanied him from Washington and his first caller after he reached his hotel was Robert Fuller, who was his secretary when he was governor of New York.

Indianapolis, Ind., June 12.—statement given out here Saturday night, accepted the nomination.

TRAIN RUNS INTO CROWD OF LABORERS

Cleveland, O., June 12.—New York Central passenger train No. 11, west bound, running more than two hours late in a fog, ran into a crowd of nearly two hundred workmen waiting on the tracks here for a work train early today, killed two outright, seriously injured three and bruised a score. The dead have not been identified.

A FAKE CALL LOSES DOCTOR HIS MONEY

Cincinnati, O., June 12.—The police are searching today for two men who deceived Dr. Louis A. Heiser, of this city, to a room on Walnut street late last night on the pretext of having a friend in need of medical assistance and there holding him up and robbing him. A dummy had been arranged on the bed and when the physician leaned over to examine the alleged patient he was seized from behind his watch and purse containing a small amount was taken from him and the men fled.

tion for vice president made at the Republican National Convention in Chicago. His statement follows: "I was not a candidate for the Vice Presidential nomination and requested the chairman of the Indiana delegation to withdraw my name if presented. The nomination was made and the convention adjourned before my dispatch was received. I feel it my duty, under the circumstances, to accept the commission which the party has so generously and unanimously placed in my hands." Mr. Fairbanks has received telegrams of congratulations from all parts of the country. Mr. Fairbanks this afternoon sent the following telegram to Mr. Hughes: "Hon. Charles E. Hughes, Washington, D. C.: 'I most heartily congratulate you upon your selection as the leader of the Republican party in the present national contest.'—CHARLES W. FAIRBANKS."

BULL MOOSE LEADER SAYS HE IS THROUGH WITH POLITICAL GAME

Chicago, June 12.—Three minutes before the Progressive convention adjourned Saturday until another time Chairman Raymond Robins read to the delegates a brief message from Oyster Bay in which Mr. Roosevelt declined to accept the nomination at that time. Few of the thousands in the vast auditorium, some of whom had seen the colonel named in an even wilder burst of enthusiasm four years ago realized when Robins rapped his gavel at 4:58 p. m. Saturday and declared the convention adjourned sine die that in a few weeks they might be a party without the one leader to whom they had come to Chicago to give the pledge of loyalty and faith.

The significance of Mr. Roosevelt's message with its announcement that if the Progressive national committee found the subsequent statements of Charles Evans Hughes, the Republican standard bearer, to its liking, his non-acceptance of the Progressive nomination should stand as his last word, was lost in that tired throng, worn by its own enthusiasm.

None of the feeling that some of them later betrayed when they had had opportunity to digest the colonel's statement had time to flare out when the gavel fell. They trooped out into Chicago's streets for home while the band played faintly and the flags that had flaunted so proudly through all the stormy sessions were folded and the banners put away.

ROOSEVELT'S ANSWER

Chicago, June 12.—Colonel Roosevelt's answer to the Progressive convention follows:

"To the Progressive convention: I am very grateful for the honor you confer upon me by nominating me as president. I cannot accept at this time. I do not know the attitude of the candidate of the Republican party toward the vital questions of the day."

"Therefore, if you desire an immediate decision, I must decline the nomination. But if you prefer it, I suggest that my conditional refusal to run be placed in the hands of the Progressive national committee."

"If Mr. Hughes' statements, when he makes them, shall satisfy the committee that it is for the interest of the country that he be elected, they can act accordingly and treat my refusal as definitely accepted."

"If they are not satisfied, they can so notify the Progressive party, and at the same time they can confer with me and then determine on whatever action we may severally deem to be appropriate to meet the needs of the country."

THEODORE ROOSEVELT.

Oyster Bay, N. Y., June 12.—Theodore Roosevelt reiterated last night that he is "out of politics." "I want to tell you newspaper men," he said, "that it's of no use for you to come up here to see me. I will have nothing to say. I will answer no questions, so please don't ask me. I am out of politics."

If the former president has any plans for the immediate future other than to continue his literary work he has not made them public. The telegraph wires last night and today brought a flood of messages to Colonel Roosevelt. It was announced that most of them approved his action in declining to become a candidate upon the Progressive ticket.

While Colonel Roosevelt would not discuss the question today, his intimates considered it altogether unlikely that he would reconsider his conditional refusal to head a third ticket. He has not yet made it clear whether or not he will support the candidacy of Mr. Hughes.

Paris, June 12.—German infantry attacked the French positions west of Fort Vaux on the Verdun front last night. The assault failed entirely, the official report of today says.

"Iron Man" Ferguson Gave Boosters 1 Run In 18 Innings

Huntington Twice Beaten Sunday Before Fine Crowd; Scores 10-1 And 1 To 0

HURLING masterly ball through eighteen long innings and never once faltering, "Iron Man" John Ferguson, Sunday, before 1,800 Huntington fans, threw the books into the Boosters, winning both games 10-1 and 1 to 0. But for a little slip up in the field Ferguson would have splashed white wash all over the city of Huntington as well as Ezra Midkiff's champion chasers. No better exhibition of pitching has ever been displayed in this league than the brand uncocked by Ferguson Sunday.

Time after time he put the visitors down in order and when a hit would have meant a run he was as tight as the log boy you usually see that blows in from the sticks and pulls out a "long black pocketbook" to fish out a nickel from it. Ferguson's work was smooth, skillful and spectacular.

He was opposed in the curtain raiser by Oscar DeLoelle, winning pitcher of the Boosters, but it wasn't DeLoelle's day to shine and he was soon driven from the slab. King, a sidewheeler, succeeded him and fared better. In the second game Ferguson and Lawrence staged a genuine pitcher's duel. Each club garnered six hits, but Huntington's were as far apart as their skyscrapers while Portsmouth's blows produced the only deciding runlet.

FIRST GAME
Fans were just pouring into the ball yard when DeLoelle found the plate swinging around on him. He walked Bush for a starter and Bauer put him down with a sacrifice. Dills also drew a pass on four wide ones. McHenry then inserted his four best wallop. Bush and Dills facing in ahead of him. That was more than enough to win. Dillhoefer and Spencer perished on infield taps.

Portsmouth raised its count to eight in the fourth and drove DeLoelle from the mound. Demoe walked. Jacobus then sent one over the fence and two more runs were across. Bush singled to center and Bauer to right, Bush racing to third. Dills sloshed scoring Bush. McHenry's triple to the fence emitted Bains and Dills and DeLoelle had enough. Dills was thrown out by Ollom, Ferguson died the same way and Spencer sent a grounder to Gibson. Demoe scored the sixth run in the fifth when he singled. Jacobus followed with another. Demoe stole third and scored on McDaniel's lead throw to second trying to catch Jacobus stealing. Dills scored the last run in the sixth when he walked after two were down, annexed second and scored when King made a bad throw to the plate.

Huntington's long tally during the entire afternoon came in the seventh inning of the first game. Dill stopped one with his uniform and ambled. An out put him on second from where he scored on Gibson's two seaker to left. The score:

Dilts Is Team's Boss Hitter; Five Players In The .300 Class

Bush Had Wonderful Day

Little Joe Bush performed in a spectacular manner around the keystone sack yesterday. His fielding frequently earned the plaudits of the most rabid Huntington fans. Bush accepted it all in the double bill and without a semblance of a slip-up. Time after time he skinned over to the second sack, dug up a near hit and got his man to Spencerland. His wonderful work arched was a scintillating feature of yesterday's victories. And at the bat he secured three hits.

INTENTIONS WERE GOOD, BUT

Waving his bat above his head and with a smile on his tobacco stained lips, Manager Midkiff, just before he went to the plate in the eighth frame of the second game said: "Well, I guess I will have to hit one over the fence. We can't make a run any other way." And with a 3 and 2 combination he sent a boulder to Bush and took a drink of ice water. Ferguson left his home run ball in his grip at the Fredrick hotel.

Team Claims Championship

The strong Pullerton team, which has won 18 games in a row, defeated the Naves in Strauss park Sunday afternoon 4 to 1. The team is claiming the championship of Seale county, Ohio and Greenup county, Kentucky.

Nonpareils Are Beaten

The Nonpareils lost to the Yankees on the sixteen street diamond Sunday afternoon by a score of 19 to 6. Kent and James worked for the Yankees. The offerings of pitchers Henry Bengo and Kestner were slumped in all corners of the yard. Doubins caught for the boosters.

STEEL PLANT WINS AGAIN

The Steel Plant again defeated McDermott at Millbrook Sunday afternoon who could do nothing with the masterful pitching of Shultz, who let them down with three hits. The score was 4 to 1. The score:

TOWN'S YOURS CHAMPS

It is positively refreshing to watch the Champs perform on foreign soil. Their aggressiveness, their alertness and their never-say-die spirit has already won them a flock of admirers in Huntington. Bauer, Dilts, Demoe, Spencer, Dilly and the whole esopde performed like world's champions yesterday. Portsmouth fans may well feel proud of their 1916 team and its capable and resourceful leader, Mr. Chester Spencer, dig 'em out of the dirt, Ches. If you will.

STOUTHEARTED FAN BET ON LOCALS

Well, I won ten dollars on the two games said a well dressed fan as he cooed into the elevator, ball-player laden after the game at the Fredrick hotel last night.
"How was that?" one of the Champs chirped.
"Why I bet $20 to $10 that Portsmouth would win both games," the fan replied.
"Gee, but you had your nerve," a scribe clipped in from one of the remote corners of said elevator.
"Nerve? Why, that's not nerve. I saw Portsmouth beat Lexington four straight earlier in the season and your club has got it on the Huntington bench forty ways."

OTHER GAMES

In the Ohio State league Sunday Lexington beat Charleston 3 to 2. Burge pitched the winner and Henderson the loser.
At Frankfort the Old Packers and Maysville halved a double header, each team winning by a 5 to 1 score. Monroe and Skinner pitched for the Packers and Shepard and Vail the host's.

Fans Like Ferguson Gave Wonderful Exhibit Of His Hurling

Huntington fans glimpsed the Champs for the first time Sunday and they are ready to admit that the Spencer fieldings are about the class of the Carr family.

The up river bugs in the first game had no chance to root for their former club, so they whooped up things for the Champs. Time after time this and that player had to lift his cap so insistently was the applause. When McHenry and Jacobus lifted the hub over the enclosure they were applauded all the way around the sacks.

Not His Day

Mr. Oscar DeLoelle, tall and angular, was in yesterday's first battle just 3 and 2-3 innings.
Here is what transpired during that brief period:
Portsmouth scored 3 large and sweet smelling runs. McHenry and Jacobus lined out homers and McHenry a triple. Mr. DeLoelle made a wild pitch, failed to strike out a man and gave five passes. It was not his day.

Harken to the old days of Old Joe McGinnity, famed for pitching a pair of games in one afternoon.
John Ferguson, Clarksville, Tenn., lad, turned the trick in Huntington Sunday and would have scored a double shut-out had not McHenry misjudged a liner into a two bagger in left field. Ferguson's box work yesterday was nothing short of marvelous. Using a world of the old zin stuff, his curves breaking mysteriously and with a change of pace that at times was almost uncanny he held the enemy safe at all angles. As the second game progressed he seemed to grow stronger. Not once did he let up and his work history as one of the best exhibitions of pitching ever witnessed in the Carr circuit.
When the Huntington fans learned that Ferguson was to be sent in the second game a wave of groans engulfed the big stand. The fans knew full well what mine more findings of Ferguson meant and they were not disappointed. "Fergy" came through in big league style. Just by way of diversion he set McDaniel and Stewart in on strikes in the ninth inning of the second battle, his speed being terrific.

BALL PICKED UP IN CATLETTSBURG

McHenry's home run was said to be the longest one ever seen in Huntington. Getting hold of one in the grove he laced it 30 feet over the left field fence and when the ball stopped rolling it was in the outskirts of Catlettsburg, so dry was it.

Jacobus The Hitting Kid

Guess this boy Larry Jacobus didn't slap one over the garden wall yesterday. His drive was almost as long as McHenry's and it sailed 30 feet over the right wall. The two wallops coming closely together put the Boosters out of the running for the day.

TOUGH BREAK LOST GAME

After catching beautiful ball Calcher McDaniels virtually lost the second game. Dillhoefer opened the fifth with a slashing single to right. With the hit and run on Spencer failed to swing at a low one and McDaniels, off his stride, had no chance to nip the flying Dilly, but he pegged to second off his balance and the ball shot by Midkiff. Dilly pulled up scullingly at third. Spencer then popped out, but Demoe smashed one through the drawn-in infield and the only score of the second game was chalked up.

AND THEREFORE JUNE

The varied and tumultuous weather offered during this month may be a trifle unusual for June, but it is not unnatural, so to speak. For June is named after Juno, wife of the heathen god, Jupiter, and we may suppose so named because of some resemblance to her. From all accounts she was a lady of much versatility of temper and accomplishments. Her lord and master got a trifle sweet on the Io, an altogether lovely demi-goddess. Thereupon Juno promptly changed Io into a heifer and put Argus, he of the hundred eyes, to guard her. Old man Jup strayed across the field shortly thereafter and recognizing Io in the heifer gave Mercury orders to slay Argus, which the latter did by chopping off Argus' head and sending his horror-stricken hundred eyes rolling all about. The grief-stricken Juno picked them up and grafted them on to the peacock's tail, and hence the highly ornate caudal appendage of that bird. Then further feeding her wrath she sent myriads of green flies to torment "that heifer" and sent her bellowing all over Greece for mercy. Finally, when she promised to be good Juno changed her back to human form and you may be sure she was good forever thereafter. Just as minor exercises for her temper she changed Callisto into a she-bear and kicked her lame son Vulcan out of heaven. That was the best thing she ever did; for Vulcan, no longer being able to sip the nectar of the gods, found it necessary to make a living for himself, became a blacksmith and introduced the arts of the forge to human beings.

YES, WE SOON FORGET

We carp because Mexico has so long suffered a bandit and murderer like Villa and we complain and carp because our own soldiers have not been able to run him down in a few short weeks. But we forget other experiences and long failure along the same line. Shortly after the civil war a band of Quantrell's guerrillas organized themselves into a band, known to a more or less dubious fame as the James Boys. For about fifteen years they robbed and sometimes killed in the Mississippi valley from Kentucky to Kansas and from Louisiana to Minnesota. In all that time scarce a one of them was caught up with by their pursuers and it was only that they got o'er reckless and pillaged in the treeless wastes of the latter state that quietus came to them as soon as it did.

Perhaps, if we would ponder upon this we would have a bit more justice for Mexico and greater patience for our own. Mexico is a thinly settled land with vast reaches of mountains and forests, furnishing in all but exceptionally instances safe abiding place for the pursued. The one end of Villa is certain, but therein, slow, leaden-heel time. It must be suffered to move on its leaden heel before his fate of the greatest of all modern bandits is sealed.

JUST LIKE THE WEATHER

Charles J. Murphy, of New York, who attains his eighty-fourth year in June, has had a career much like the weather of the month so far. And he is much like it in another respect too. He has been of vast benefit to the agricultural interests. Not many people have heard of Charles J. Murphy. He was born abroad and in contradiction to his name, not in Ireland, but England, beginning his globe-trotting experience in his very infancy, when he was brought to this country in his mother's arms. In early manhood he joined in the gold rush to California and "struck it rich". But he gave to California a million dollars for every one he dug out of her golden soil. For years later, when he was finishing a tour of South America, he brought back with him from Brazil the naval orange and introduced its culture in that state. As soldier he fought in both the Mexican and Civil Wars, winning a commission in the latter for gallant service and a gold medal from congress because of a thrilling escape he led from a Confederate prison. In 1891 he organized the American relief commission, which sent ten ship loads of potatoes and corn to the starving Russians and was later brought by the czar to teach his people the growing and using of corn. For philanthropic service he has been decorated by more than one foreign government.

At that we suppose that if an enlisting officer were to suddenly make his appearance in one of those preparedness parades and sound a clarion call for duty in the trenches down in Mexico he would be regarded as a butter in and be in luck to escape with his life, while immediately afterwards there would be a sudden and large falling off in the numbers of the parade.

Brother Charlie's paper, the Times-Star, agrees enthusiastically and approvingly with Rudolph Hyinnicka, that his selection as national committeeman is a compliment to the kind of Republicanism that rules in Cincinnati. Yes, and so do several hundred thousand other Republicans and that means a bigger shower of bricks in its direction, when the fellows get home and tell the messes what happened to the Burton presidential aspiration and who happened it. As far as the naked eye can reach out into the state there is no love for Cincinnati anyway.

Man wants but little here below and sometimes we think we should be fairly well satisfied with the general situation if only we really got the mileage per gallon of gasoline we say we do when conversing with the owner of some other kind of car.—Ohio State Journal.

THE WISDOM OF EXPERIENCE

(Wansee Expositor)

The Putnam County Sentinel last week in stating "A Few Fifth District Facts" said that Harmon, for Governor, carried the district in 1910, by 5,480, but that Cox, Hogan and Ansberry lost it in 1914. If these are facts then the next thing we want to find is the contributing cause. The question is not "How much did The Sentinel and Put Sandles, its editor, do FOR these candidates," but "How much did they do AGAINST each one of these candidates." Jealousy and sordid ambition of a number of political wire pullers and grab bag holders who want something falling their way all the time constrained them to work against these candidates. Thus with the religious propaganda, false reports, jealous and sorehead knockers within the Democratic ranks, a strong Republican organization with a barrel of money, in dry communities charging these men with being dry, under these circumstances we say what else could the results be?

The Sentinel is not handing out these facts for Harmon's benefit. It is primarily to boost Put Sandles for governor. The question for the Democrats to consider is, Do they want a leader who has contributed toward the defeat of a whole Democratic ticket?

Things may not be as exciting at St. Louis as they were last week at Chicago, but any way we hope the weather will be a bit kinder and that the sun will shine once in awhile.

The Woman's Federation of Clubs proposes to standardize the street costumes of all the sisters. All we have got to say on the subject is that only women would attempt such a thing.

Notwithstanding it is June the finding of "someone to beat Wilson," was about as jound a task as hunting for a needle in a hay stack.

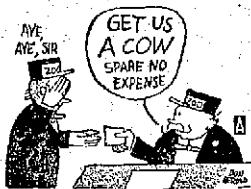

Burton's middle name is Elijah. The Cincinnati submarines, probably, didn't give a tinker for that when they exploded a torpedo at his boom from the inside and so couldn't miss.

All at once we realize that the resistless tide of time and events has carried us beyond a point we would never reach. In the speech of Temporary Chairman Harding, to the national Republican convention there was not a single word in reference to the reconstructed negro, or the unreconstructed south. And it took just an even half century for a partisan spell-binder to get to those omissions.

Billy Sunday will save Boston, New York, Chicago and St. Louis in the order named. And by the time he finishes with St. Louis, we fear the devil will have recaptured Boston, New York and Chicago.—Houston Post.

SHOW NEW YORK A COW
A Letter to the Directors of the Central Park Zoo, New York. Dear Sirs—Everyday Wisdom has a suggestion. You may not care. You may not think it is any of our business.

We suggest that you buy and install a cow in the Central Park Zoo. There are millions of little children in New York who have never seen a cow. Perhaps not millions, but several dozen, at least.

They have seen lions, tigers, ant-eaters and other fauna of foreign forests, but they have never laid eyes on an American domestic, barnyard or pasture cow. This is absurd.

All they know about cows is that milk comes in bottles, mysteriously, like Santa Claus and like little brothers and sisters.

We suggest a cow renaissance in New York. One time a cow came to Manhattan Island and laid off Broadway by walking crookedly and unsteadily from one end of the island to the other, and that is the last time a cow has been seen in New York City.

The Central Park Zoo ought to keep a cow. Show the children of New York some of the animals of America; they know enough about the animals of Europe. Have milking days. Show the little ones the source of milk and roast beef medium. New York children don't know any more about cows than country people know about the origin of wall paper.

The Magic Ears Again

Ox monstro Gint and Shina wandered into the far corner of the forest and there they found a great pile of rocks.

"No use wandering around among these rocks," said Shina. "We'll find nothing pretty here. What would grow in rocks?"

"Nothing would of course," replied Gint. "But still it will do no harm to look. You remember we didn't think much of that green moss on the tree bark, and it turned out to be a most interesting plant with a long, high-sounding name—Protococcus—see, I can say it myself! I will never forget it."

"That's different," said Shina. "When we discovered Protococcus we could see it plainly. Only we knew nothing about it. But here among these rough rocks we can see nothing. Come on, Gint, let's go over and play in the sunshine." For, you must know, of all the faeries in the fairy kingdom that was the forest, Gint and Shina were the warmest friends of the sunbeams and always had a good romp with them in the morning.

"Very well, I'll come as soon as I look over this one pile of rock right here," said Gint, and he hastily scrambled up to the edge of rock and peered over.

"Shine! Shine! Come here and look!" he called as soon as he looked over the edge of the rock. Shina knew by this way he spoke that he had seen something interesting, so he lost no time in climbing up the pile of rock after Gint and leaning beside him over its edge. It's lucky they were faeries and could not fall, for they were so interested in what they saw that they forgot to be careful.

"Forn!" exclaimed Shina. "A whole fern town!" added Gint. "And aren't we glad we found it?" "Let's go down and talk to them," said Shina, and quick as a flash, the faeries scrambled down the other side of the rocks and stepped into the middle of fern town.

"Such a place to live!" cried Gint. "I don't see why they chose to grow among rocks. Anybody can see that rocks are hard and stony. I'm going to ask about it." And without waiting a minute, he pulled out his magic ears so he could hear what the ferns might say.

"We like to live among the rocks," he heard Mother Fern saying. "Only stupid ferns try to grow anywhere else. We choose the rocks because they hold the moisture for us. We're a thirsty family, let me tell you, and the rocks know it. Many a drink we get from their cracks and crevices when at any other place in the forest we would go thirsty! But you will have to excuse me," she continued, "for this is my busy day. I have a dozen brand new babies to look after. Come again and I'll tell you more."

Mother Fern went on about her business and Gint and Shina had to wait till another time to hear more. To-morrow—Willy Wood-rat Spies something

NEW-YORK-DAY-BY-DAY

O.O. MCINTYRE.

New York, June 12—Herbert Bayard Swope, city editor of the Morning World, was a star reporter before he was selected to guide the local staff of the great Pulitzer newspaper. Down on Park Row they tell a story on Mr. Swope when he was the cubbiest of cub reporters which shows that sometimes even a cub will reveal his claws.

It was the time of morning when the paper has gone to press and the staff sits around waiting to see if a "make over" is necessary before the complete run is off the press. A copy reader by pre-arrangement went down to the neighboring drug store and called up the city desk and the ninth answering the phone appeared to be wildly excited.

"What's that?" he shouted. "Gee! That is a whale of a story." And then he hung up the receiver while every man present was apparently on his tiptoes ready to pounce. Over in the corner Mr. Swope tapping away at his typewriter suddenly stopped hoping for the Great Moment.

But the staff grew very secretive and all the orders were given in whispers and when Mr. Swope came near they would look at him strangely and keep very quiet. Of course he wondered what it was all about and had no idea they were just hazing him.

That night he went home very much discouraged but on his way he by mere accident stumbled onto a big murder story, called up his managing editor, got the facts, rushed back to the office and with the managing editor and a few printers, hurriedly called, got out an extra that beat the town.

This sounds like a skit from the burlesque stage but it actually happened in the Hotel Belmont. A man from Corning, N. Y. tried to shake hands with himself in a mirror at the end of a hallway and when he ran into the glass glared around angrily and shouted "Quit your shoving."

The dancing masters from all over the country who have been meeting in New York seem to have sounded the death knell for the "duck waddle" type of dances and even the plaid two step is to be decolorized and de-natured.

In fact dancing is going back to the fundamentals of pure simplicity in New York and even the Chicago terpsichorean classic, "Walking the Dog" will go to the scrap heap. The shocking freak steps, it is announced, are to give way to those that cause no brain lag and the tired business man may now sleep in a ballroom so long as he keeps his toes half awake.

The old fashioned waltz, sterilized and rejuvenated, is to come whirling into its own. The chief idea of the convention was to standardize the dance so the girl from Portland, Oregon, could dance with the young slicker on Broadway without feeling she was out of date.

A new hoity-toity cafe, with just 12 little tables has opened up on Fifth Avenue. It is only open in the afternoon and has a small dancing floor and tea and light repasts are served. Once the tables are filled no others may enter and unless you are in the Social Register you cannot get in under any conditions.

It costs $2 for a seat at the table and a modest little luncheon for two would be about $6. The dancing privilege costs $1 each and high balls and cocktails and the like are also $1 each. To spend an hour or so in the place would knock a big hole in a $20 bill and probably leave you about enough to tip the hat check girl. However, the proprietress evidently knows what she is doing for the little cafe is crowded each day and many are turned away. One breezy Westerner heard of the place and for a lark tried to get in. He was shooed away as if he had just broken out with the small-pox.

"Why isn't this Child's?" he asked. "I just want a cut of pie and a bowl of milk." It nearly broke the heart of the proprietress.

The Kind That You Are
It isn't the kind of a boy he will be,
But the kind of a father you are;
It is you that must help him to know and see;
It is you that he knows as his star,
And are you the kind that he loves or fears,
The kind that he trembles before,
With hatred and misery and suffering and tears—
Well, don't be so any more!

It isn't the way that the boy will turn out,
But the way that you help him to turn;
It is you that must help him to sing and to shout,
To dream and to hunger and yearn.
Are you the kind that he comes to in joy,
And likes to be with you, and feels
That you are a man that's the friend of a boy,
As close to your bosom he steals.

It isn't the kind of a man he will make,
But the way that you lead him in life,
In truth and in honor, for honor's own sake,
With courage to face the brave strife.

And are you the kind that he doesn't come near
Because you're so gruff in your grime,
And you bid him run off, with lips curled in a sneer—
Well, don't be that way the next time!

DESPONDENT WOMAN JUMPS INTO MILLBROOK LAKE

Separated From Her Husband, Local Woman Tries To End Her Life

Quick action by several young men who luckily were by, all that saved Mrs. Sarah Jane Parsons-Pendleton, from a watery grave in the waters of Millbrook lake Sunday evening about seven o'clock, when the young woman leaped into the lake in an unsuccessful attempt to drown herself. The scene of the near-suicide was on the west bank of the lake, the spillway on the Sciotoville car line. The woman's screams as she tried to hold herself above the water on first coming to the surface brought many to the scene and by the time she had been finally brought to land nearly fifty had gathered on the bank to lend a helping hand and to get a glimpse of the near-victim.

It did not take long for the news to scatter over the little settlement of Lakeside, and the home of David Parker, where the young woman was taken, was thronged all evening with the curious.

Mrs. Pendleton is said to be the wife of George Pendleton, who is somewhere in West Virginia. She is twenty-three and the mother of two small boys, Homer and Johnny. The woman and her children and her niece, Miss Minnie McElease, and the former's mother, Mrs. America Parsons, have light housekeeping rooms at the Mrs. Margaret A. Nash home, 435 Second street. The two children and the aged mother were not informed of the young woman's rash deed Sunday night for fear that the shock would be fatal.

Mrs. Pendleton and niece, Miss McElease, had been to the Parker home in the morning to view the corpse of a baby grandson of Mr. and Mrs. David Parker, and shortly after the noon hour they returned to Portsmouth. About seven o'clock they decided to attend the Pentecostal meeting being held in Lakeside and also to visit Mr. and Mrs. Parker, the latter being a sister of Mrs. Pendleton. The two young women were walking along the car tracks towards Lakeside and just as they were opposite the old bench tree which stands on the west bank of the spillway, the woman tossed her hat aside and running to the edge of the water, plunged in. Her screams, as she leaped from the bank and the cries of Miss McElease, were heard by Hiram White, of New Boston, who was on his way to Lakeside, and who saw the woman as she leaped into the water. John Arwood, who was on the front porch of his home on the east bank of Lakeside, and Ned Polley and Lonnie Ward, of Lakeside, who were on their way to the park, also heard the cries and ran to the scene. By the time they reached the edge of the water Mrs. Pendleton was about twenty-five feet from shore and in about fifteen feet of water.

Ward swam to her side and just as she was going down for the third time, caught her with one arm and started for shore. White and Arwood waded into the water and through their efforts the two were brought to safety, Ward being exhausted.

The woman was carried to her sister's home and Dr. Challis Dawson was summoned. The woman appeared dead, but after fifteen minutes hard work, she responded to the restoratives given by the physician. It was not until late Sunday night she talked and then gave no reason for the rash act. According to the physician she will get along, merely unless pneumonia develops.

Mrs. Pendleton has been married about six years and has had considerable family trouble. Her only sister, Mrs. David Parker, heard but little of her during her married life. She just recently left her husband and over a week ago met her niece in Hinton, W. Va., from which place they came to Portsmouth one week ago Sunday.

According to the niece, Mrs. Pendleton had complained of severe pain in her head, breast and side and all week she did not seem in her right mind, and talked of drowning herself and children. She recently recovered from typhoid fever. For the last two years she has been subject to these spells, which are hereditary. Some advanced the theory that her mind was unbalanced by attending the Pentecostal meetings, but she had only been to two or three meetings. The sorrow brought by the death of her sister's grandchild, and her mental condition, are given as the causes for her attempt at suicide. Besides her mother and two sons the woman has two brothers in Rowan-county, Ky.

Here is a hopeless paragraph from the Weekly Bostonian:

PLENTY OF MUSIC FOR "SHOEMAKERS DAY" ON NEXT SATURDAY

With horns tooting, drums beating, flags waving, pennants flapping, and folks yelling well, friends, there is absolutely no question of the success of "Shoemakers' Day" at Millbrook Park next Saturday afternoon.

In fact the day promises to be the biggest event of its kind ever pulled off in minor-league circles and that is taking in quite an amount of territory.

The shoe manufacturers have entered into the spirit of the occasion with such unanimity of purpose that those who fanned the proposition are sanguine fully 4,000 people will assemble at the park to witness the game between the Selby Shoe Co. team vs. the Excelsior and Irving Drew team, also the spirited contest between the local team of the O. S. League and the "Old Taylors" of Frankfort.

One of the most joyfully received announcements ever made by the owners of the Portsmouth franchise in the O. S. L. was the one admitting all children under sixteen years of age free on "Shoemakers' Day". Any boy or girl in Portsmouth will not be required to give up a penny to witness the two games and they are privileged to pick out the best seats, too. All they have to do is to walk in and then yell. But those "Old Taylors" will imagine something has broken loose when those kids begin to root.

Another nice feature is that special tickets will be sold to all persons employed in shoe factories at 25 cents each, this admitting the holder to reserved seats. The fact that children will be admitted free, coupled with the fact that all shoeworkers will be charged only 25 cents, means that the honest shoeworker and his good wife can take the entire family for the price of one ticket. And make no mistake about it, the shoeworkers will be out in full force.

Her Great Desire.
"I disapprove of the new fashions because they encourage vanity," says a woman reformer. "I know a little girl whose mother has gone in for all the new fashions. This little girl's teacher said to her reproachfully one day:
"But, my dear, don't you want to grow up so that everybody will look up to you?"
"No, ma'am," said the youngster decidedly. "I want to grow up so that everybody will look round at me."

Word has reached the streets that the shoeworkers will recruit a brass band for the occasion, also that the River City Band, in order to show their appreciation for the liberality of Levi D. York in giving them a very liberal contract for playing concerts at the park this summer, will donate their services for the occasion. This means plenty of music and where there is an abundance of music there is bound to be plenty of life, liberty and enthusiasm. The committee appointed from the Selby Shoe Co., the Excelsior Shoe Co. and the Irving Drew Shoe Co., will hold a meeting at the First National Bank building this (Monday evening) at 7:30 o'clock, at which time a regular program will be mapped out and a ticket campaign put on. One member of the committee, Theodore Branham, stated Monday that he was sanguine fully 1,800 tickets would be sold among the Selby Shoe Co. employees alone. And the same proportion will hold good at the Irving Drew and Excelsior Shoe Co.

In the meantime, make no engagements that will interfere with your attendance at Millbrook Park next Saturday afternoon. To see 4,000 people at the two games will be a sight worth witnessing. In fact it will establish a high water mark for professional baseball in this city. Portsmouth is used to doing big things and next Saturday she will demonstrate that fact. Bring out your fog horns, get together all your noise making devices and be at the park at 1:30 when festivities will begin.

FALLS OUT OF WINDOW; INJURIES MAY BE FATAL

Leaning out of a second story window after drinking beer freely and other intoxicants during the evening will probably prove fatal to William Pitzas, foreigner. He fell out of a second story window at New Boston, Saturday night about ten o'clock and received injuries to his spine and internal organs that will likely prove fatal, according to the attending physician. The man is paralyzed from his shoulders down and is only able to move his fingers. He cannot talk coherently.

The accident took place at the Kountz building, formerly occupied by the Kountz saloon, two doors east of the town hall. Pitzas had reached the top of a stairs and was going to visit several fellow foreigners. He became sick and stuck his head out of the window, which is only about three feet from the top of the stairs and when he lost his balance he fell headfirst to the ground, a distance of 30 feet.

A physician was summoned and Lynn's ambulance was called. The physician wanted to take the man to the city police station but fellow foreigners promised to stand all expenses and he was removed to Hempstead hospital. He is about 35 years of age and has been in this country for some time. He formerly worked in the steel plant but of late has been employed as laborer with Kelley Bros., paving contractors. He is known among fellow workers as "peanut."

Lucasville To Get Waterworks, Reservoir Plan May Be Adopted

The initial step toward securing a water works for the village of Lucasville has been taken by a committee composed of J. H. Brant, Thomas Hartman and Dr. J. N. Thomas. At the request of this committee, an engineer from the State Board of Health, Columbus, will come to Lucasville Wednesday morning to make a survey of the lands and an analysis of the water with a view of recommending a plan for a plant that will meet with the requirements of the statutes.

After the engineer makes his report, a stock company will be incorporated for $5,000 and the plant will be erected according to the present plans. The plan the citizens of Lucasville have prepared for their water works is to establish a covered reservoir on the hill just east of the village. Near the proposed site are three large springs, which will furnish the supply.

For several years, the business men of that village have been planning to build a system that would give them an adequate supply of water. But no definite action was taken until the conflagration destroyed half of the town before the flames were checked.

"Green" Driver Sends Car Over Embankment

William McCarty, a stove molder, of No. 1217 Grandview avenue, ran his new automobile over an embankment and into a telephone pole and corn crib opposite the Horms floral farm on Scioto Trail Sunday afternoon.

Mr. McCarty was learning to drive the automobile, a demonstrator from the Universal Motor Company, instructing him in the handling of the car. In trying to pass another automobile Mr. McCarty gave a quick jerk of the steering wheel, which sent the car from the road before the demonstrator could check it.

Third Annual System Meeting Of O. R. C. Opened Here Sunday

With close to fifty out of town members present and the majority of the local members in attendance the third annual system meeting of the Order of Railway Conductors and Ladies Auxiliary to the Order of Railway Conductors, Norfolk and Western Railway system, held under the auspices of the Three States Division 351 Order of Railway Conductors and Ladies' Auxiliary to the Order of Railway Conductors opened in the local high school auditorium Sunday afternoon at two o'clock. It was with much regret that word was received that W. J. Jenks, general superintendent of Western Division of the N. & W. of Bluefield, W. Va., could not be present to deliver the main address of the afternoon.

Word was also received that A. B. Garretson, president of the O. R. C., could not make arrangements to get here in time to make his talk. A special car attached to No. 3 early Sunday morning brought about thirty-five visitors from Roanoke, Va. More arrived on the early trains Sunday morning and on No. 15 Sunday afternoon. Some arrived Monday morning.

The first meeting of the kind was held in Bluefield in 1914, the second in Roanoke in 1915. This year Portsmouth has the honor of entertaining the members and judging from the splendid program of Sunday afternoon this year's meeting is to far outshine the two previous sessions. Everything for the enjoyment of the members is being carefully looked after by splendid committees.

The meeting opened at two o'clock with J. C. English, chairman of the local committee of adjustment, in charge in the place of C. C. Horn, general chairman of the O. R. C., and a member of Division 351, who was present but on account of being indisposed turned the meeting over to Mr. English. Mr. English explained that this opening session was an informal session for the public, all conductors and their families. He told of the first two annual meetings and the success of each.

"These system meetings make us better organizations and bring us in closer touch with the railway officials. The railroad man of today is on the long grade to a social uplift," said Mr. English. City Solicitor Mayor Kaps' Place

Mayor H. H. Kaps and several of his officials were suddenly called out of the city early Sunday and City Solicitor Anselm Skelton was selected to fill the mayor's place in giving the "Welcome To Our City" address. Mr. Skelton said in part: "We pride ourselves in the fact that you have selected our city as your meeting place. We extend to you a most hearty welcome and trust that you will enjoy every minute of your time here. We extend to you every pleasure the city offers and hope you enjoy them during the convention."

Mrs. C. C. Norris, president of L. A. Division 262, on behalf of the Auxiliary, spoke a few words of welcome as follows: "We most sincerely welcome you and hope your visit will be a most pleasant one." At this juncture a large basket of flowers was sent forward and received by Chairman English. They were from Divisions 351 and 311 of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers and Ladies Auxiliary 433 to the B. of L. E. L. C. Payne, member of Division 351, welcomed the visitors on behalf of the O. R. C. Division 351. Mr. Payne in part said: "Visitors, we do not look upon you as strangers but we greet you as brothers and sisters of our organizations. I take opportunity at this time to thank the business men of Portsmouth for the part they have taken in so successfully making arrangements for your entertainment while in this city." He explained that steps had been taken to show the visitors places of interest in the city while here. "We are glad to have you with us on this occasion. I give to one and each of you a hearty welcome to our city."

Although no one was selected to fill the place of President Garretson an able speaker, G. P. Tarley, was secured to fill the place of W. J. Jenks.

I see men here whom I have worked with on two other divisions before I came to the Scioto Division. I want to add my welcome to those already extended. The rapid strides made by the Norfolk and Western railroad have been phenomenal. Some idea of this can be gained by going over the gross earning reports. The heaviest business of the road today is from the coal fields to the lakes. The Shenandoah Division is only a branch today and at first was the main feeder for the new line now carrying the heavy business. In 1882 F. J. Kimble was president of the railroad. He was a man away beyond his time. He told his officials they would live to see the day when the line would be double tracked to Columbus. The time is near at hand when we will be considering a third track. "In 1884 or 1885 the O. R. C. was organized on the Shenandoah Division. Today you are a very powerful organization. I think I voice the opinion of nearly every official of the road when I say we believe in organized labor. It is self defense to you. The prosperity has been brought about largely by your organization and hearty co-operation. I want to caution you about one thing, don't overlook conservatism, be conservative. Another thing for the railroad men of today is the safety first movement. Safety first is old as the world but people are just awakening to the value of

West Va. Candidate Visits In Portsmouth

C. R. Wilson, president of the Wilson Sand & Supply company, of Huntington, W. Va., was a business visitor in Portsmouth Saturday. Mr. Wilson, who is one of the well-known business men of this section, has many friends in Portsmouth, where he transacts much business. The Democrats of West Virginia have honored Mr. Wilson by naming him as their candidate for secretary of state. His many friends here hope he will be elected and feel sure he will fill the position with credit to himself and his progressive state.

Gypsies And Death.
The custom of placing the property of the dead in their graves has always been followed by the true Romany gypsies. It is due to some old tradition of ill luck attending the possession of an article whose former owner is gone, and much valuable property is buried in this belief. There is also a sentiment among gypsies against the possession of anything that has belonged to a dead person, because it serves to remind the living of the departed and inspire in them a dread of death. The custom of burying their property with gypsy dead dates from the earliest history of the Romany tribes.
